Italian Paper Warns as

England Determined To Go Full Length Under Geneva Covenant; Retains Arms Embargo.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—(P)—Great Britain, an adviser informant told the Associated Press tonight, will go to any length under the League covenant to try to prevent war in Africa.

If other powers join her, he said, she will subscribe not only to financial and economic pressure upon the aggressor but to the use of military, naval and air sanctions, (in other words, display of force).

She will even consider joint closure of the Suez canal, he said.
The informant said the cabinet, in emergency session, decided to seek a peaceful settlement by every possible device but, if that fails, to advocate the use of the strongest League instru-mentality provided—and this was definite—she does not stand alone.

But Britain does not intend to preclude the world single-handedly, he said.

Drops U. S. Appeal.
The cabinet agreed a formal approach to the United States "looking toward co-operation outside the League is unnecessary at present. It events justify it, such an approach can be made.

It emphasized, the informant said, its determination to support the covenant of the League and all treaties.

He added the League of Nations must decide the type of sanctions to be employed in event of hostilities and how forcefully they are likely to be employed.

The cabinet surprised most quarters in the past.

Sen. Russell Scouts Attack by Anderson

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—After reading published statements of W. T.
Anderson, editor of the Macon Telegraph, attacking him for the senate's rejection this week of the former's brother, P. T. Anderson, Sr., as postmaster at Macon, Senator Richard B.
Russell Jr. today made the following brief comment:

"There is nothing unusual in the attack on me by W. T. Anderson. He has been doing this ever since I have been in state politics. I hope it will be as beneficial to him in the future as it has been in the past."

Representative Carl Vinson, whose district embraces Macon, said today he was not yet ready to announce a recommendation for Mr. Anderson's successor. Though subject to confirmation by the senate, postmaster appointments are considered congressional appointments.

Judah's Lion Keeps Enemies in His Court

This is the fourth in a series of articles on Ethiopia mailed from Addis Ababa by Pierre Van Paassen, The Constitution's European correspondent now in the East African war zone.

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

ADDIS ABABA—(By Mail).—The French run the railways of Abyssinia.
An Egyptian is the religious head.
The Italians coin the money. The Belgians drill the army. The Swedes operate the air force, and the British look on. The last, too, is very profitable.

The money made by the Italians as Austrian thalers with the 17th century likeness of chubby doublechinned Empress Maria Theresa stamped on them. The railway (there is only one line which runs from Djibouti to the capital of French Somaliland on the Red sea) is not functioning at nights on account of the rains say some, on account of the herds of cattle say others, because of the danger of attack by wild and woolly tribesmen with poisonous spears, still others, in this case the Italian affairs. At any rate it takes the train three days to cover the 600 odd kilometers of the run, which isn't exactly the "Royal Scot's" record.

Two engines are necessary on the way in, for the road climbs to 3,000 feet. Passengers do not need to push, but it has happened more than once in the past year that they rode into Addis Ababa on mule-back, having preferred to do the last 40 miles or so with that proverbially slow but sure means of locomotion.

Three Big Mysteries.
The mysteries of Abyssinia are three, to wit, how the men get into the tight pants they wear, their feet how they are shod, and why they are picked by the teeth and thirdly, for what reason they call the marriage law of the realm monogamy when every home with more than a daughter in its harem boasts of having at least three wives.

Then there is slavery. A lot has been said about slavery in Ethiopia of late. Especially in Rome. It is a complicated matter and requires some study. But it can't be so bad as they say, for the following reason: I met a gent who spoke about the golden days of yore, the prosperity of yesteryear. What was his business? He was doing nothing at present but hoping for a return of the good old days.
What then made the old days so good?

"I was a slave-dealer," he told me.
"And I made a fortune at it." This present emperor had put the business on the blink. But the emperor wouldn't last. I was assured. The people wouldn't stand for his reforms.
There had been a depression ever since he mounted the throne. That much for slavery today.

COAL BILL PASSES AS HOUSE ACCEPTS UTILITY PROPOSAL

Robinson Forecasts Adjourning Saturday as 92-Million Deficiency Measure Gains Approval

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(P)— Congress swept aside two formidable barriers to its Saturday adjournment goal today but half a dozen others presented problems for the next 48 hours.

Under the urging of President Roosevelt, the house voted, 219 to 142, to accept a compromise on utility holding company dissolution after twice rejecting the mandatory clause
the President desired.

Eight members of the Georgia delegation fell behind the Presidential plan for the compromise with Representatives Brown, Castellow, Deen, Owen, Peterson, Vinson and Wheeler in that category. The two Georgians opposing the action were Ramspeck and Tarver.

The offer made by the senate would permit second degree utility holding companies to remain in business but their operations must be limited to an integrated system doing business in a contiguous or concentrated area. No time limit is fixed when holding companies which cannot conform to these specifications are to be outlawed.

This and other phases of administration are left to the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The senate approved the Guffey bill intended to stabilize the soft coal industry, although an amendment left a question as to whether price-fixing authority remained.

Other major developments of the day included:

The house passed a bill to tax railroad and their employees three and one-half per cent each to finance a pension bill previously approved by both chambers. It now goes to the senate.

The house foreign affairs committee first rejected senate neutrality legislation and then approved it with an amendment which would make it expire February 29. Speedy house action will be sought.

The house completed congressional action on a bill designed to prevent minority stockholders from blocking railroad reorganizations.

It now goes to the White House.
The house passed a $92,961,299

NEUTRALITY BILL REVISED IN HOUSE

Resolution Now Provides Ban on Arms Shipment
From U. S. Until Feb. 29.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(UP)—
A house foreign affairs committee late today reported a substitute measure for the senate's neutrality legislation which would ban arms shipments to belligerent nations until February 29 in the hope of keeping America out of the Italian-Ethiopian war.

The substitute, according to Chairman Sam D. McReynolds, is acceptable to President Roosevelt and to Senator Gerald P. Nye, republican North Dakota, sponsor of the senate measure.
Its speedy passage is virtually assured.

The committee drafted the measure after rejecting the senate resolution 15 to 6, following the intervention of Mr. Roosevelt, some of whose advisers held that a mandatory embargo provision would force the United States to "run for cover" as soon as war breaks out. The President was represented as wanting discretion in placing embargoes so that the United States might yield its power as a weapon for peace.

Compromise Move.
The substitute was a compromise between the two positions. The President agreed to mandatory embargoes, but a time limit was set which would enable the next congress to enact new legislation in the light of new developments in the Italian-Ethiopian crisis.

There was one other change in the senate resolution, which provided a licensing system for domestic munitions manufacturers, supervised by a board.

The house bill sets up a purely casual board composed of the secretaries of war, navy, treasury and commerce to establish a licensing system for munitions manufacture. The board is ordered to require registration of manufacturers, subjecting them to inspection showing the amount of munitions made for exportation and importation.

Other Provisions.
Other provisions were retained:

1. A ban is placed against transportation aboard American ships of arms, munitions, explosives, or other warlike material.

Mystery Call Solves Gem Theft And Causes Arrest of Suspect

More Than $3,000 in Diamonds, Stolen Two Weeks Ago, Recovered by Police; Woman Tells How Valuables
Were Hidden in Telephone.

A mysterious telephone message to detectives yesterday led to the recovery of diamonds valued at more than $3,000 and the final solution of a robbery in which precious stones and jewelry valued at more than $4,000 were taken.

Larceny and disorderly conduct were booked by city detectives against Jack Kelley, about 28 years old, of 706 Central avenue. Hearing in recorder's court will be held at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

H. S. Sams, 40, of 104 Edgewood avenue, Kelley's employer, was being detained last night as a material witness after making a statement which aided in the clearing up of the robbery of the stones and jewelry from a cedar chest in the home of W. N. Ransom, of 706 Central avenue, on August 11.

Two Absolved.
Mrs. H. S. Sams and Bill Armstrong, who lived at 115 Houston street, were also taken into custody but released after making statements and being absolved of complicity in the crime.

All four, according to Detective
P. E. Jones had been in custody previously for questioning. A brooch, set with diamonds and rubies, and valued at $800 was recovered from Armstrong. Detectives absolved him, saying he did not know the jewelry was "hot" and that it had been given to him for safekeeping by Sams. They also said Sams had apparently become innocently involved.

Yesterday afternoon a mysterious caller told Detective Jones, who was investigating the theft with Lieutenant C. E. McCrary and Detective J.
T. Mitchell, "the diamonds you are looking for can be found back of a door at 104 Edgewood avenue."

Find Stones.
The officers went there and found the stones.

Detective Jones said last night that Ransom had visited Birmingham on August 11 and had left Kelley in his home, where the accused man had a room.

On his return he found that someone had pulled a cedar chest from the wall and removed the hinges.
The unset stones and the jewelry had been hidden in the chest. They were all missing. The unset stones had been secreted in a ring case, jammed down in the opening provided for a ring.

Kelley was suspected and questioned, but released.

Hidden in Telephone.
Mrs. Sams, in her statement to detectives, said that about 3 o'clock in the afternoon Kelley brought two of the loose diamonds to their apartment over Sams' sandwich shop on Edgewood avenue, and later that night they were hidden in the telephone.

MACDONALD CALLS PARLEY ON ROADS

Federal Engineers Summoned To Washington in Georgia Fund Situation.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Before replying to objection raised by the Georgia Highway Board to the five proposals made by Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace for settlement of the state highway controversy, Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the United States Bureau of Public Roads, will summon engineers of the bureau's division headquarters at Montgomery to Washington for a conference, it was learned today.

The conference, it is understood, will be held in the purpose of considering further concessions to the state board, which refused to accede to the Wallace suggestion for raising engineers' salaries and creating two additional engineering divisions in the state.

While official comment on the reply of Chairman E. E. Wilburn to the Wallace letter is still being withheld, agriculture department heads are said to be prepared to yield ground at least part way on the two points at issue.
There seems to be no mistaking the fact that they are much pleased over the more conciliatory tone of Mr. Wilburn's last letter as contrasted with the "salty" flavor of the first.

Just how far the department here will go in further concessions remains a matter of speculation, but there is an obvious feeling on the part of administration officials, shared by members of the Georgia congressional delegation, that the way is now open for a final adjustment of the difficulties.

At the same time there is a possibility of President Roosevelt's intervening in the dispute and personally directing the form the conditions shall be.

U. S. Will Help Thousands Attend Schools and Colleges in Georgia

A program that will enable several thousand Georgia college and high school students, who are unable to attend classes, to go to school during the coming term was announced yesterday by the National Youth Administration.

R. R. Patz, Georgia director of the administration and head of the educational division of the Public Works Administration, called a meeting of the heads of all colleges in the state participating in the school aid program, for 11 a. m. (central daylight time), in the Atlanta Y. M. C. A., next Monday to discuss the program.

All colleges of non-profit making character, are eligible and 45 participated last year.

EXTORTION ARREST BY AGENTS OF U. S. EXPECTED TODAY

Guards Are Maintained Over 15 Northeast Georgians Threatened in Letters Mailed by Fanatic.

Government agents are tightening their circle of evidence today around the single suspect to whom clue after clue points, expecting swift solution of northeast Georgia's blackmail mystery.

From arrest is probable today, it was announced last night. Final word is awaited from Washington, to complete the mass of records that promise definite charges to lay the extortion plot at the door of the man whose movements are being closely guarded to prevent a possible effort to escape.

Meanwhile, life resumed an almost normal course for the 15 persons whose lives were threatened unless demands were met for cash and the return of certain properties to previous owners. The unusual twist given to the extortion letters by the Robin Hood role assumed by the would-be extortionist has lightened the work of the investigators.

Fingerprint identification, expected from Washington today, will enable Department of Justice agents, under the direction of Special Agent W. A.
Roper, of the Atlanta office, to make the move that they expect to clear up the mystery that has brought terror to wealthy northeast Georgia families during the last week.

Guards on Duty.
Guards still are being maintained over the 15 persons whose lives were threatened, to prevent a possible desertion attempt at fulfillment of the threats.

Those threatened are John, Victor and Bona Allen, of Buford, and their families; Mrs. Kate Allen Shadburn, sister of the Allen brothers; Taylor
Whitely, Decatur, Ga., landowner; C.
K. Ware, president of the National Bank of Lawrenceville; Pemberton Schooley, Lawrenceville attorney, and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wayne, wealthy landowners of Flowery Branch.

The letters were signed "Justice for the People," the Vigilante Committee, and were written by the same hand.

REGISTRATION LIST INCREASE SOUGHT

Bond Campaign Chairman Plans Drive To Qualify More Citizens.

Senator G. Everett Millican, chairman of the bond campaign committee to push to a successful conclusion the drive for ratification of the $1,775,000 bond issue for school and sewer improvements, yesterday began a move to increase the city registration as J.
Henson Tatum, city clerk and registration officer, released figures showing only 10,023 are qualified to cast ballots.

Millican proposes to make registration as convenient as possible for all citizens, and will evolve a system of ward by ward canvassing to increase the number of voters.

The bond committee head also planned to spend about two weeks away from his work with the Gulf Refining Company, where he is employed in an executive capacity, before the election date, September 18, in order to devote his entire time to prosecution of the drive.

Assistance Pleaded.
Jones H. Ewing and Mrs. George Ripley, appointed co-chairmen of a citizens' committee to sponsor the bond drive, will give Millican and George F. Eubanks, secretary, every assistance possible, and Millican is confident of success for the ratification movement.

Ewing Wednesday night designated Millican to handle details of the drive at the organization meeting, and the 35th district senator plans to devote a large portion of his time in cooperating with Ewing and the citizens' group in prosecution of the campaign.

"The thing to do is to acquaint the people of the emergency need for school and sewer improvements," Mil-lican said. "Atlanta has always responded to their full duty in any crisis, even when they were not getting such an advantageous proposition as the federal government is offering them now."

Must-Know Facts.
"I have no apprehension but that they will vote the bonds which are asked if they know all the facts connected with the issue."

"City employees should not be penalized to pay the interest and sinking fund on these bonds. It is not right that they should be, and I for one intend to see that they are not.

ment said, to equal the difference which may exist between 12 cents and the average price of 7-8 inch middling cotton in the 10 spot market

EDWARD V. SHEELY KILLED IN CRASH

Veteran Memphis Druggist's Wife Is Seriously Injured in Crash.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 22.—(P)—Memphians mourned today the death of Edward V. Sheely, 65, veteran druggist, who was killed in an automobile wreck yesterday near Huntington, W. Va., in which his wife was seriously injured.

His pharmacy, that he had operated here for almost 35 years, was one of the city's landmarks. It was estimated that he had filled more than 250,000 prescriptions for Memphians. Sheely came here 30 years ago after graduating from the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy. For 25 years he held the post of historian of the Tennessee Pharmaceutical Association and was known to druggists in every section in Tennessee.

In 1925, Sheely was given an honorary master's degree in pharmacy by the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy. He was appointed postmaster here in 1928 by former President Calvin Coolidge, and held the post for four years.

LOUISIANA TO REJECT FEDERAL SCHOOL AID

Officials Charge 'Disrespectful Attitude' of U. S. Toward State Authorities.

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 22.—(P)—The rift between the state and federal governments, over education in Louisiana widened today with announcement by T. H. Harris, state superintendent of education, that federal school funds would be rejected because of the federal government's "disrespectful attitude" toward state school authorities.

Harris said the federal funds, amounting to $300,000 last year and $1,000,000 the year before, would not be accepted even though state funds proved insufficient to maintain full school terms.

Harris recently engaged in controversy with Frank H. Peterman, state FERA administrator, over appointment of W. B. Hatcher as federal education director in Louisiana.

He said Hatcher's appointment was contrary to Washington instructions and should be cancelled because he was snubbed and ignored when it was made.

Many parishes have curtailed school terms the last few years because of lack of money.

REUNION PLANNED FOR NISBET CLAN

Descendants of Newton County Pioneer to Gather Next Wednesday.

Chief O. J. Parker, of the Atlanta fire department, is president of the Descendants of Robert Nisbet Association, he being one of the direct descendants of that Scotch-Irish pioneer who settled in Newton county in the middle of the last century.

Chief Parker announces that the descendants of this pioneer will hold a reunion at Grant park next Wednesday, at which dinner will be served at 12:30 o'clock.

Miss Cora Harvey, of Covington, is secretary of the association. All relatives, descendants and their friends are invited to attend, and to bring their picnic baskets with them.

E. C. Nisbet, who lives at Bessemer, Ala., is the oldest living representative of the family and as its patriarch is expected to attend the reunion. At 82 years of age he is hale and hearty.

Judge John D. Humphries will be the speaker of the day. He has compiled a family tree, his wife being a great-granddaughter of Robert Nisbet. Chief Parker's mother was Emma Nisbet, she being a granddaughter of the pioneer in whose honor the association is named. She is also the mother of W. O. Parker, chief of police of DeKalb county.

Chief Parker asks that all representatives and friends of the family who attend the reunion bring well-filled baskets.

IS ADJUDGED SUICIDE

A verdict of suicide was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury in the death of Robert L. Lyon Jr., 38, of 150 Primrose avenue, who was found dead in the coal bin at the home of his mother-in-law Wednesday afternoon by his seven-year-old son, Charles. Lyon had been missing from his home since Tuesday afternoon.

He had eaten dinner Tuesday night at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. J. H. Carter, at 150 Georgia avenue. S. E. and had not returned home. Relatives began an immediate search. Officers were informed that Lyon had been despondent since he had been dropped from the relief rolls recently.

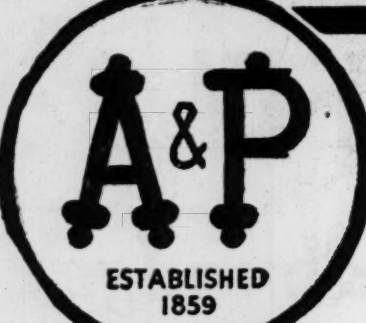

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock this afternoon at the Mapleton Methodist church with the Rev. Southern officiating. Burial will be in the Davis cemetery at Mapleton with Blanchard Brothers in charge.

Employe of Solicitor Headed for Stockade

The difference between 17 and 18 saved J. P. (Bootsie) Turman from taking a free ride to the city stockade yesterday.

Turman is an employe of Solicitor-General John A. Boykin, doing special work on fake damage claims. He was sent to the city police station yesterday to obtain information from the records there. After he had finished, Turman started out of the lieutenant's office as a batch of prisoners were being taken from the jail to the stockade.

Turman attempted to walk through the crowd of men and suddenly found himself being hustled into the patrol wagon by city police. He protested that he did not want to go to the stockade.

"None of them do," replied the policeman.

Only when a count was taken of the 17 prisoners scheduled for the stockade was Turman, the eighteenth man, allowed to return to the solicitor's office.

Leader in Church Work Succumbs to Long Illness; Funeral Tomorrow.

Mrs. Fannie L. Eubanks, pioneer resident of Atlanta and widow of the late T. F. Eubanks, died yesterday morning at the residence, 1288 West Peachtree street. She was 81 years old and had been a resident here for 61 years, coming from Tennessee in 1874.

Mrs. Eubanks was a devoted church worker and was one of the founders of the old Third Baptist church and a charter member of the Tabernacle Baptist church. Death followed a long illness.

Mrs. Eubanks was widely known and loved by many of the early families of the city. In the days before professional nurses were available it was her habit to minister to the sick. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. J. C. Walraven; four brothers, W. M. and J. E. Watkins, of Atlanta; F. R. Watkins, of Washington, D. C.; a grandson, Judson Walraven; a grand daughter, Mrs. Leon Deck and a great grandson, Judson Walraven III.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Tabernacle Baptist church with Dr. W. H. Knight officiating. Burial will be in West View cemetery with A. W. and J. Walraven in charge.

HERE'S TO MIDNIGHT SNACKS

by THE FLAVOR TWINS

ZEST TANG

Our idea isn't to give you a lot of fancy new concoctions. Rather, we present that lively pair, Zest and Tang, for your own favorite snack.

If you're a weakness for midnight sandwiches, here's a flavor touch that makes you like them even more—spread the bread with Durkee's Dressing instead of butter. And if you like to pick around with bits of cold meat or fish or cheese, just keep the Durkee's Dressing bottle handy so you can dab a bit on each piece. Durkee's Dressing has a knack for coaxing out the true hidden flavors of everything it touches. And it brings new pep to the feast. It's Durkee's secret flavor-formula that gives you such Tang and Zest.

Bishop Warren Candler, 78 Today, Would Like To 'Skip' His Birthday

Famous Churchman Styles Self 'An Old Country Preacher.'

Bishop Warren A. Candler is 78 years old today.

Self-styled "old country preacher," he is to thousands of Methodists, former students and other well-wishers throughout Georgia, a brilliant clergyman, great educator and fine friend.

"No, I have no particular plans for my birthday," he said yesterday. "I will stay at home with Mrs. Candler, my sweetheart for 58 years. There's no use in noticing the birthday of an old country preacher."

In 1875, when he was 18, Bishop Candler was a junior circuit rider at $115 a year. Now he has been a bishop for 37 years and a Methodist clergyman for over a half-century. He has been both a president and a chancellor of Emory University, an assistant editor of the Christian Advocate, author of many religious books and a prolific contributor to newspapers and periodicals.

The influence of his wit, brilliant mind and determination on the education and religion of Georgia is partly chronicled in his sermons and often seen in younger teachers and preachers whom his hand or philosophy, molded.

He was born at Villa Rica, in Carroll county, on August 23, 1857, the son of Martha (Reall) and Samuel Charles Candler. He earned Emory College, at Oxford, in 1873, graduating with an A. B. degree two years later. While in school he was regarded as a brilliant student.

At 20 he married the lady whom he professes most to be with at 87—Miss Nettie Curtright, of LaGrange. For about 10 years he continued in Methodist pastorate, until in 1888 he became president of Emory College, his alma mater.

Bishop Candler was 31 when he became president of Emory. There he stayed for 10 years, returning in 1914 to become chancellor for six years.

Made Bishop. In 1918, he was made a bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, south. Ever since, whenever an issue arose in the church, Bishop Candler has been known to throw all of his mental brilliance on one side and to stick there tenaciously and without fear.

The same qualities he has shown in his guidance of Emory University, especially regarding intercollegiate athletics. The bishop always has stood for intra-mural athletics only and now the "Emory system" of athletics is known on almost all campuses.

Among the books he has written are "The Christ and the Creed," "History of Sunday Schools," "Young J. Allen," "Life of Bishop Charles B. Galloway," "Georgia's Educational Work," and "Christus Auctor"—published about a year after he became a bishop.

At 78 he is still active, a leader in education and the church. Of his birthday he says:

"I think I'd like to skip it."

MUNICIPAL COURT FREES W. S. BROWN

Evidence Insufficient, Judge

"Rules in Stock Selling Case."

Warrant charging William S. Brown, of 283 Peachtree street, with cheating and swindling was dismissed in municipal court yesterday by Judge Ralph McClelland.

Charges were made against Brown, who is under bond on similar warrants in Cartersville, by Dr. E. F. Sapp, of Albany. Judge McClelland told Dr. Sapp the evidence presented was insufficient to hold Brown.

Brown is alleged to have sold Dr. Sapp $200 worth of preorganization stock in the "National X-ray Company," which he said he was going to form. When he did not call a stockholders' meeting Dr. Sapp became alarmed and took out a warrant, the doctor said in court.

A Cartersville doctor had Brown arrested several days ago on three warrants charging cheating and swindling, and the Atlanta man was released under bond of $2,000.

Also needed are refuge superintendents, $3,500 a year; assistant refuge managers, $3,200 a year and sheet metal workers, $1,680 a year. Apply to the manager, Fifth United States civil service district at the postoffice.

Charwomen between the ages of 18 and 50 are also needed by the government. They must apply at room 311, new postoffice building, before August 27. The pay is 30 cents an hour.

MOTIONS TO DISMISS 12 INDICTMENTS FILED

Motions to dismiss 12 indictments against E. N. Claughton, president of the defunct Bankers' Saving and Loan Company, were filed in Fulton superior court yesterday by his attorney.

One indictment charges embezzlement, four violation of the securities act and seven larceny after trust. The former bank president is now serving a term of 10 to 15 years, having been convicted in 1934 on five indictments. He received sentence of 2 to 3 years on each indictment which was tried.

Frank Bowers, Claughton's lawyer, said a plea for clemency is now before the prison commission.

Talmadge 'Laughs Off' Report of 'Challenge'

Governor Talmadge yesterday laughed off reports that he had been challenged to a fist fight by hecklers who attended a revival service Wednesday night at the Old Central Baptist church, Whitehall and Cooper streets, where the Governor made a talk.

Whenever a man gets to talking about pertinent subjects he's bound to find people who disagree with him, some of them vociferously," the Governor said.

The Governor had appeared as the guest of the Rev. James Belk, who is conducting a revival series at the church.

He continued his attack on the New Deal policies and declared that "he who gambles with God is playing a losing game."

"You said no laboring man is worth more than a dollar a day," one of the hecklers shouted.

"Eugene Talmadge never said that," the Governor replied to his critic who was in a crowd outside the church. "Come inside, and I'll debate with you all night."

BISHOP WARREN A. CANDLER.

$3 TAGS TO BE SOLD ONLY TO GEORGIANS

Doyal Says Out-of-State Applicants Must Furnish Certificates.

Out-of-state residents will not be sold Georgia license tags without official information from their own states that they are entitled to them.

Chairman Paul H. Doyal, of the State Revenue Commission, announced yesterday.

"Applicants for Georgia tags must furnish a certificate from their home state that they have not had their drivers' license revoked and that they are otherwise entitled to the Georgia tag," Mr. Doyal said.

The new regulation was added by the revenue commission after complaints from New York state that New Yorkers were buying Georgia tags in large numbers.

Doyal added that in addition to furnishing the certificate that applicant must swear he intends to be a resident of Georgia for 30 days or longer.

THIRD-GRADE GASOLINE IS ADVANCED ONE CENT

The margin between the cost of third-grade gasoline and first and second grades was cut yesterday when Atlanta service stations marked up their prices on the lower-grade gasoline to 18 cents.

This is the second price advance in several months, 16 cents having been the general price until it was hiked to 17 cents recently.

No hikes are planned in prices of higher grades, gasoline company officials said yesterday. The market, they said, has been steady in these types and their cost will remain at 24 cents for "Ethyl" and 22 cents for "standard" gas.

WISCONSIN CITY HOST TO YOUNG DEMOCRATS

Bands Blare as Youthful Leaders Prepare To Open Annual Convention.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Bands and marching groups in lively characteristic of their states led gay delegations around Milwaukee tonight on the eve of formal opening of the two-day second annual convention of the Young Democratic Clubs of America.

It was like the windup night of a political campaign.

Most curious of the groups was a band of Mennonites, a religious sect from Hanson county, South Dakota. Clad in dark felt hats, blue shirts, galuses and dark trousers, all the members except those unmarried, wore rough beards.

South Dakota's delegation was booming Frank Wickhem, national committeeman from Sioux Falls, for the national presidency. Wickhem is an assistant United States district attorney.

Indiana's group was met at the train by a Milwaukee band and was paraded to the state headquarters where Indianapolis is being boosted for the next convention.

At Florida headquarters, souvenirs were distributed to remind delegates that Jacksonville also wants the 1936 convention, and that Acey Carraway, of Orlando, is a candidate to succeed James Roosevelt as national secretary. He bases his bid on a record of organizing 95 clubs in the 67 Florida counties.

Local speakers roared out an appeal for the election of Joseph Herbert Leib, of South Bend, Ind., as president. In his headquarters, framed letters were displayed as proof of his claim that he organized the first Roosevelt-for-President Club in the nation.

Another candidate for the presidency was George Williamson, a Minneapolis attorney and former state president. Convention officials said the address tomorrow by United States Senator F. Ryan Duffy, of Wisconsin, would be "the democratic reply" to anti-administration statements by former President Hoover.

JAMES ROOSEVELT ILL IN HOME AT HYDE PARK

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 22.—(AP) James Roosevelt is confined to the family home at Hyde Park with a cold and sore throat, it was reported at the residence today.

Whether the President's son would be able to attend the forthcoming young democratic convention at Milwaukee was said to be problematical.

Endurance Plane Down.

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Motor trouble forced down the endurance plane Comet at 5:32 a. m. central standard time today after being aloft slightly less than 60 hours. Ken Ringel and Ellis Frederick, the pilots, said the engine could not be repaired while aloft, precluding the possibility of breaking the 27-day record recently set by the Keys brothers at Meridian, Mississippi.

THREE MEASURES

HOME TESTED RECIPES

Sally Savers

DINNER FOR A TWO-SOME.
 What and how to serve for two, is often a perplexing problem to the new homemaker. The average recipe for six leaves a trail of left-overs with which the young bride is not yet skillful enough to cope. Most beginners lack the deftness of the seasoned cook who can tuck left-overs here and there in a meal so they seem like special tidbits. Even a girl who has cooked before marriage is probably not used to serving so few people. Cooking for two does, indeed, seem to be a problem. But it is not really such a big one after all, for the average recipe can be cut in two without disturbing the balance of ingredients if the recipes come from a standard, reliable source. Be sure to choose the recipes carefully, divide the portions accurately, writing them down so there will be no danger of loss.

White Cake.
 Cream 1/2 cup butter, add 1 cup sugar and cream together thoroughly. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla. Sift together twice 2 cups sifted pastry flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt, and add to butter mixture alternately with 1/2 cup milk. Fold in 3 stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into two lightly greased layer cake pans, the bottoms of which have been lined with waxed paper, and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 20 to 25 minutes. Cake will spring back when touched lightly with finger, if done. When this recipe is cut in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 20 to 25 minutes. Cake will spring back when touched lightly with finger, if done. When this recipe is cut in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 20 to 25 minutes. Cake will spring back when touched lightly with finger, if done.

Graham Cracker and Apple Butter Slices.
 Mix 1 cup pure apple butter and 1/4 cup chopped salted pecans. Spread half of this mixture, about 1/4 inch thick, on 6 graham crackers. Top each with a second graham cracker and spread with remaining apple butter mixture. Top with a thin slice of apple, and press the layers together lightly. Let stand in refrigerator or some cool place for 4 or 5 hours. Stand the sandwich on one side and cut through the edges with a sharp knife into three equal portions. Serve the strips, cut edges up, on a dessert plate in triangular fashion. Whip 1/3 cup whipping cream until stiff, then fold in 1 teaspoon powdered sugar and 1/4 teaspoon vanilla. Serve about two tablespoons in center of each plate. Top with a pecan half.

Peach Puffs.
 One cup real mayonnaise, 1 egg white, stiffly beaten; 12 large peach halves, peeled; 3/4 cup almonds, finely shredded.
 Fold mayonnaise into egg white gently but thoroughly. Pipe in center of each peach half. Sprinkle with almonds. Toast under broiler for one minute, or until delicately browned and puffed. Cool. Serve on crisp lettuce with additional real mayonnaise.

Peach Flower Salad.
 Eight large peach halves, peeled; 2 packages (6 ounces each) cream cheese; 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 8 short green pepper strips.
 Place each peach half, rounded side up, on crisp lettuce. Thoroughly blend cheese and mayonnaise. Outline each peach half with cheese and mayonnaise mixture, forced through a pastry tube. Garnish each with a tiny green pepper strip to represent the stem of a flower. Serve with additional mayonnaise, thinned with a little whipped cream and peach juice. Serves 12.

Minted Peach Salad.
 Six large peaches, peeled, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 1 bunch fresh mint, 2 tablespoons whipping cream, 2 drops almond extract, 1/4 cup mayonnaise.
 Place each peach half, rounded side up, on crisp lettuce. Sprinkle each half with half of the lemon juice and half the mint, chopped. Save a few whole sprigs for garnish. Serve with dressing, made by folding whipped cream, remaining lemon juice, salt, and almond extract into mayonnaise. Serves 6.

Chocolate Peppermint Refrigerator.
 Two squares unsweetened chocolate, 1 1/3 cups (1 can) sweetened condensed milk, 1/2 cup water, 3 drops oil of peppermint, 24 vanilla wafers.
 Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water 5 minutes, until mixture thickens. Add water and oil of peppermint. Let narrow, oblong pan with wax paper. Cover with chocolate mixture. Add layer of vanilla wafers alternating in this way until chocolate mixture is used, finishing with layer of wafers. Chill in refrigerator 12 hours or longer. To serve turn out on small platter and carefully remove wax paper. Cut in slices. Garnish with whipped cream, if desired. Serves 8.

FOOD IS IMPORTANT IN FUTURE OF MAN

Baking Firm Following Physician's Prediction, Puts Vitamin D in Bread.

"Man's place in future history will depend in no small degree on the food he eats." This prediction was made by Dr. James S. McClellan in his inaugural address as president of the American Medical Association at Atlantic City. He stated that those races of men who are willing to take advantage of the new knowledge of nutrition may be rewarded by a higher degree of positive health and greater cultural attainment. Man, to a considerable extent, may be master of his own physical development, if he heeds the scientific advances in the study of foods and health. The doctor stressed the importance of adequate food to the realization of the nutritive values of foods. He declared that today approximately 20,000,000 Americans are probably getting barely enough, or in many cases insufficient food, of the proper kind to maintain their health. Dr. McClellan reiterated that the proper diet must be made available for the poor. The doctor is professor of medicine at the University of Alabama and is the author of treatises dealing with nutrition and diet in health and disease. In keeping with this point stressed by Dr. McClellan, the Stone Baking Company is attempting to supply Vitamin D, scarce in ordinary foods, by incorporating this vitamin in O Boy Viter Vitamin D bread. Vitamin D is essential, especially to children, since it helps to build bones and teeth. Children who do not get enough of this vitamin suffer from rickets, a disease marked by poor bone development, and in later life decayed teeth and other ailments which may cause serious complications. A child need not suffer from a severe case to run the danger of these weaknesses later on.

The process whereby Vitamin D is incorporated in O Boy Viter Vitamin D bread was developed at Columbia University by Professor Theodore F. Zuckerman. Recently the Good Housekeeping Institute awarded Viter Vitamin D bread the Good Housekeeping seal of approval. This seal is now imprinted on the wrapper of every loaf of this bread. Although great expense was incurred by incorporating this extra food value, O Boy Viter Vitamin D bread is sold to the public at no increase in price.

THURSDAY THEFTS FEATURED PURSES

Sneak Thieves Active in Various Sections of Atlanta.

Yesterday was purse theft day, celebrated by the underworld gentry of Atlanta. The police helped one, a sneak thief, to wind up the celebration in style, serving him one of the city jail's special suppers.

One distinguished himself by slipping through a garbage slide into the apartment of Miss Lucile Jordan, at 100 Piedmont avenue. Once in he hid and when Miss Jordan returned from a shopping excursion took her purse, containing $1.75 cash, $6 worth of checks and a $35 wrist watch. Miss Jordan heard the door slam and found her pocketbook gone. A negro girl told police she saw a young negro running from the house with something under his arm.

The thief who received the help of the police went into an office in the North building and took a purse belonging to Miss J. Fields. Attempting to escape his plans were interrupted by W. T. Bearden, an elevator operator, who caught him on the main floor. He told police he was W. M. Whitten, 22, of Avondale.

A member of the underworld elite got in the home of Mrs. F. B. Miles, of 56 Currier street, took two purses containing $9 and some bank books and departed via the front door. Neighbors said he made a very calm exit. Police later found the purses and bank books in an empty garage behind the home.

ing Manager of Ansley.

E. A. Crocy, chief steward and catering manager of the Ansley hotel, died late Wednesday night at St. Joseph's hospital, following complications that resulted from a minor operation. Born in Rumania, 65 years ago, Mr. Crocy came to the United States in early manhood. First settling in New York, he was connected with such famous institutions as Delmonico's, Rector's and the St. Regis hotel. He was a personal friend of George Rector, who has achieved international reputation in culinary arts.

Coming to New Orleans, Mr. Crocy joined the staff of the St. Charles hotel, where he had charge of catering. He later associated himself with the United Hotel Company, leaving that organization about 20 years ago to become affiliated with the Dinkler Hotel Company, starting as steward and later as chief executive. He was advanced to the office of chief steward of the system.

Funeral services will be held at 9:30 o'clock this morning at Sacred Heart church, of which Mr. Crocy was a communicant, with the Rev. Father McGrath officiating. Interment will be in West View cemetery. Pall bearers will be V. W. Gentry, Frank B. Graziano, J. M. McAdams, Fred Condra, Henry Genone, S. V. Cefalu and L. A. Johnson. Funeral arrangements are in charge of Sam R. Greenberg & Company.

REPORTERS PROTECTED BY NEW ALABAMA LAW

Newspapermen Granted Immunity From Revealing News Sources.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Governor Bibb Graves today signed the Calhoun bill granting immunity to newspaper reporters from revealing confidential news sources before grand jurors or other investigating bodies, and the measure immediately became a state law.

The Alabama senate today gave final passage to the Calhoun bill, which was introduced by Representative Perry Calhoun, of Dothan, provides that "no person engaged in, connected with or employed on any newspaper while engaged in a news-gathering capacity shall be compelled to disclose in any legal proceedings or trial, before any court or before a grand jury of any court, or before the presiding officer of any tribunal or his agent or agents, or before any committee of the legislature or elsewhere, the source of any information procured or obtained by him and published in the newspaper on which he is engaged, connected with or employed."

The law, patterned closely after the New Jersey statute, received only minor opposition in the legislature, and was sent to the Governor's desk last week for his assured signature.

"I'm for the bill," the Governor told newspapermen earlier in the session. "I think you should be protected in safeguarding confidences. But now that you've got this law, I want you to keep your house clean."

The house passed a bill to establish a state department of labor, while the senate passed a drivers' license law creating a highway patrol of from 50 to 200 officers to enforce the safety provisions of the act.

Reversing its stand of yesterday, the senate's temperance committee reported "without recommendation" on the Dorsey bill calling for a new state referendum on prohibition and the legalization of beer and liquor under a state-controlled board in counties voting "wet." A report was refused on the bill yesterday, but today's action places it on Monday's calendar for final action next week.

The newspaper bill, introduced by Representative Perry Calhoun, of Dothan, provides that "no person engaged in, connected with or employed on any newspaper while engaged in a news-gathering capacity shall be compelled to disclose in any legal proceedings or trial, before any court or before a grand jury of any court, or before the presiding officer of any tribunal or his agent or agents, or before any committee of the legislature or elsewhere, the source of any information procured or obtained by him and published in the newspaper on which he is engaged, connected with or employed."

The 21-to-8 vote on sterilization sends the bill to Governor Graves.

Meat Through Spigots May Replace Butcher

VIENNA, Aug. 22.—(UP)—Two quarts of roast beef and a pint of bacon may be heard in markets soon if "liquid meat" experiments at an Austrian agricultural chemical institute prove practical.

Liquid meat made in the laboratories has been found to retain the full nutritional value and taste of the original. It can be made into paste and spread on bread or turned into soup by addition of hot water. It keeps fresh for long periods and is expected to be marketed soon.

HOSKINS RE-ELECTED BY U. OF TENNESSEE

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 22.—(AP)—The University of Tennessee trustees today re-elected President James D. Hoskins for a second year, approved a $450,000 budget for 1936, and approved several new faculty appointments.

J. J. Walker and J. P. Hess were re-elected treasurer and business manager, respectively, and George C. Rowlett, of Martin, and Cary F. Spence, of Knoxville, were sworn in for new terms as trustees.

New Roosevelt Clubs.

BENNETTSVILLE, S. C., Aug. 22.—(AP)—South Carolina, solidly democratic state, today had two Roosevelt re-nomination clubs. The first club was established last week at Sumter, and yesterday the Marlboro County Roosevelt Re-nomination Club was formed at Bennettsville.

WARMSPRINGSHEAD GOES TO NEW YORK

Arthur Carpenter Joins Eastern Staff To Fight Infantile Paralysis.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Arthur E. Carpenter, former resident trustee of the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation, announced today he had joined the staff of the New York office to direct the intensification and co-ordination of the national fight against infantile paralysis.

His place as executive head of the hospital at Warm Springs has been taken by Dr. Graeme Mitchell, head of the Children's hospital at Cincinnati, Ohio. Dr. Mitchell will have the title of administrative consultant.

NEW LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY ORGANIZED

Southern Life Formed Here as Subsidiary to Insurance Securities.

Organization of the Southern Life Insurance Company of Georgia, a subsidiary of the Southern Insurance Securities Corporation, was perfected yesterday at a meeting of stockholders assembled in the company offices in the William-Orville building.

Dr. Dan Y. Sage, president of the Atlanta physician, is president, and Wiley L. Moore, former member of the Atlanta city council, president of the Winfield Oil Company of Georgia and president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, is chairman of the board of directors.

A. R. Wright, deputy insurance commissioner of Georgia, presented the license issued by his department to the life insurance subsidiary at yesterday's meeting and all details preparatory to actual start of operations were consummated.

Success Predicted.

The company will begin writing policies at once and Dr. Sage predicted success for the enterprise.

Fire and casualty divisions will be organized as rapidly as is practicable, he said.

In announcing the entry of the company into the field, Dr. Sage pointed out that the entire organization is financed and backed by Georgia capital. Approximately 700 Georgians residing in 140 of the 159 counties of the state are stockholders in the several companies.

Plan All Branches.

"We propose to provide every branch of insurance facility which can be offered to citizens of Georgia and eventually to the entire south," Dr. Sage said yesterday in commenting on the launching of the new Georgia venture.

"I believe Georgians will be pleased that a group of their own citizens and their own neighbors are making such service available to them."

In addition to Moore and Dr. Sage, the following are officers in the parent company:

BOOK-GAME

$1,800 in Cash Prizes for Book Titles!

BY THE BOOK-GAME EDITOR.

One thousand dollars all at once! Just think of the wonderful things that can be done with that amount! One thousand dollars is the first prize in The Constitution's $1,800 Book-GAME, and somewhere in Georgia or in one of the states adjoining Georgia is the person who will shortly receive that prize. That person may be reading this very story. Or maybe it is someone who hasn't even started playing the Book-GAME. It may be somebody who is deciding this week, as are many readers, to take part, and try to win a prize while having lots of fun.

Those who want to start a Book-GAME set now can get all the back pictures easily. The first 12 will be given for the asking at Book-GAME headquarters. Beyond No. 12 pictures are 5 cents apiece, 8 for 30 cents, 40 (half the full set) $1.25. Three cents postage must be sent with orders for pictures by mail.

Question Box

Come Right On.

Q. Am I too late to try your contest, Mrs. J. J. Stockbridge, Ga.?

A. There's still plenty of time. Start right in and join the fun.

Q. Are the titles to be written exactly, word-for-word as they are in "What To Read"? Are all the titles used in the contest included in "What To Read"? Is it necessary to include the author's name in the answer? This is the only contest I ever saw where I thought I had even a slight chance of winning. Aside from that, it is most enjoyable, so I'm having lots of fun. I've never discovered a dozen books I'd like to read sometime. I'm very glad that you started this contest.—Miss M. H. Atlanta.

A. "What To Read" includes all the most appropriate titles for the 80 Book-GAME pictures. Every answer should be written exactly as it appears in this book. It is not necessary to give the author's name.

Q. Will there be anything else to do after naming the Book-GAME pictures and sending them in?—M. H. Atlanta.

A. No, that's all. Then we just wait until all the sets have been checked and judged, and see who win the prizes.

Thank You!

I am greatly interested in solving the pictures, but puzzled sometimes when I find what seem to be two suitable answers. You ought not tease!

Thank You!

Am enjoying the Book-GAME very much and think it's the best contest you've put on.—W. S. Gainesville, Georgia.

Thank You!

Am enjoying your contest. Think it is lots of fun trying to find titles for the pictures. It is my first time to enter a contest, and I like it very much.—Mrs. W. O. R. Griffin, Ga.

Thank You!

I am enjoying the Book-GAME immensely. It is beneficial as well as a pleasant pastime. It is my honest belief that every family should own your book, "What To Read." Thanks for the pleasure that I get out of it.—L. G. M., Atlanta.

GIRL HELD AS BOMBER IS FREED ON $800 BOND

Aileen Sisk, under indictment for a capital offense, was freed from Fulton tower on $800 bond yesterday.

The girl and several male companions are charged with bombing two residences and a theater, the penalty of which is death in Georgia on conviction, and she also is under indictment for malicious mischief in connection with breaking beer signs for pay.

She was released the day she was indicted on $300 bond through an error, and was arrested again Sunday when she went to Fulton tower to visit her sweetheart, Marvin Hones, who has been sentenced to death next month for the slaying of David Lord.

Solicitor-General John A. Boykin recommended to a superior court judge yesterday that the girl be allowed bond and the judge set it at $800, which was made promptly. Her six male companions in a series of bombings and smashing of beer signs were not allowed bail.

YOUTH LOSES $110 ON WAY FROM BANK

Small bills and change totaling $110 were lost yesterday between 200 Whiteford avenue, N. E., and 1133 Ponce de Leon avenue by Julian Dowdy, 15, an employee of a grocery store at the Ponce de Leon avenue.

Ralph Davis, manager of the store, told police that he sent the youth to a bank at Little Five Points for the money and that he went from the bank to Davis' home on Whiteford avenue to get the manager's lunch. He had the money when he left there, police were told. Davis, police said, told them Dowdy had worked for him for five years and lived with him.

Those Who Pick the Easy Jobs Must Be

Content With Small Rewards

The charity of good people is often denied to those who need it

Well, you will reach the New Testament in vain for such words as these:

"Depart from me, ye ragged trash; the stench of thy unwashed bodies is an offense to my nostrils."

Or these: "Let him hunger and thirst and go naked, for he is a sinner and worthy; and he and all of his people lived unrighteously in the day of their prosperity, and he is just to be reserved to glory."

Or these: "They wasted their substance in good times, and their own folly brought this evil upon them. They do not humble themselves nor speak words of gratitude. Let them starve."

They need no help; they have no need of a physician, and perfect people have no need of charity.

Many fine people need help; but those whose need is greatest are ignorant, illiterate, dirty, sick, ill-bred, wicked and repulsive.

To scorn these and give your aims to nicer and less needy people is a sly effort to purchase heaven's favor without paying the full price.

ment is the safeguard and protection. It is the last government in the world standing for individual liberty. Legions conventions such as this take us back to 1917 when we were called to war. Now we are called for an even greater cause. There are those who challenge the constitution of the United States. The Legion has determined purpose of defending the constitution.

"I think Henson's resolution is un-called for," said Henson. "The reaction I have seen here is that it is tinged with the taint of politics and I say it in all kindness as A. L. Henson is a good friend of mine."

"The Legion already has gone on record as favoring payment of the bonus and I think we should leave to congress the method of financing it."

Henson said he was determined to see the resolution through.

"Sure I have some opposition," Henson commented, "but we're going to beat it. You see where it's coming from, don't you? I have no intention of withdrawing the resolution."

Henson said it was "ridiculous" that "my resolution has any political significance." In Athens yesterday, D. Weaver Bridges, a Legion leader, said it was "a bare faced attempt to link the Roosevelt administration with communism and give Governor Talmadge political ammunition."

Should the resolution be killed in committee the expected fight on the floor of the convention would be avoided. However, there is a possibility even then that the issue could be brought before the entire body for consideration.

Bridges said the resolution apparently was to favor payment of the bonus out of the $4,800,000,000 work-relief fund, but in reality was an attack on Roosevelt.

Henson, who emphasized he would introduce the resolution as an individual member of the Legion, and not as a state official, nor as state service officer of the Legion, said: "The last time the American Legion convention met in Macon, the same fellows who are fighting the payment of the bonus out of the $4,800,000,000 work-relief fund, kept the bonus question out of the convention with the same tactics."

"They said a resolution asking for the cash payment of adjusted service certificates was 'politics' and scared the proponents of the resolution off the floor."

Opposition to the resolution was voiced in other quarters. Howard Gordon, of Madison county, tenth district Legion commander, said he would back Bridges' fight on the paper.

Mrs. Julius Y. Talmadge, of Athens, member of the state democratic executive committee and a distant relative of the governor, said she was not familiar with the provisions of the resolution but that "it is an alarming state of affairs if the American Legion should ever put any man or party above America."

Henson's resolution says the President has allotted "one billion dollars of the work-relief fund to a campaign for Norman Thomas, socialist candidate for the presidency in 1936. Guy Tugwell." It adds that Tugwell plans to use the fund for "destruction of crops" on the one hand, and for reclamation of "arid lands" on the other. It says also a portion of the money will be used for "pig and calf birth control while pork and beef imports are mounting to new heights."

Henry H. Green, Atlanta, grand chief of train, was elevated to the position of grand chief of the 40 and 8, that of grand chief of state, today. He had been acting in that capacity in the absence of the former chief officer, who moved from the state.

Other officers elected were: W. H. D. Purdin, Albany, grand chief of train; Thomas M. Butler, Savannah, grand conductor; Father Dan McCarthy, Columbus, grand ammunier; Franklin Chalmers, Atlanta, grand advocate; James H. Rankin, Atlanta, grand chief of state; Dan Dunwoody, Macon, grand commissary; John M. Sloan, Atlanta, chemist national; Guy Stone, Glenwood, alternate chemist national; Bill Jones, Macon, grand publicist; Robert A. Garner, Atlanta, grand correspondent. Medals were awarded to Charlie Baddour, Albany; Basil Stockbridge, Atlanta; and Father McCarthy, Columbus, past grand chiefs of state, for their services in that office.

A band concert, and demonstrations by various drum and bugle corps preceded the opening session of the convention tonight. The American Legion Auxiliary is meeting here simultaneously.

Watkins Election Seen. Colonel Ben T. Watkins, Macon police chief, is slated to succeed Delacey Allen, of Albany, as state commander of the Legion. Major Quincy Melton, of Griffin, national vice commander of the Legion, is mentioned prominently as a candidate for national executive committee to succeed James Gould, of Brunswick.

Reports of department officers and committee chairmen are chief items on Friday's business calendar. A beauty contest and coronation ball will be a brilliant feature of Friday evening's program. Report of the resolution committee will be received Saturday morning. Selection of the 1936 convention city and election of officers are final events on the Saturday business program.

ters by temporarily maintaining the ban on arms exports to both Ethiopia and Italy. This matter was left in the hands of key ministers, foreign minister, and Anthony Eden, secretary of League affairs, will keep in very close contact with Ray Atherton, American charge d'affaires, and with Washington.

New Peace Moves. New peace moves toward Italy were initiated at the urgent request of Premier Pierre Laval, of France.

Laval, it was learned, urged Hoare and Eden to approach Mussolini further in diplomatic channels.

Britain will make overtures direct and in conjunction with Laval. The two governments will continue to explore the possibilities of a peaceful solution right up to and including the Geneva meeting.

If their peace efforts break down, then proposals for sanctions will follow, the Associated Press was told.

Suez Ownership Control. United States Senator James D. Pope, of Idaho, said Great Britain is powerless to close the Suez canal to Italy, in the event of war, without the approval of France.

The British government cannot act because of the peculiar ownership set-up of the canal, he said. "I have learned the British government owns only 44 per cent of canal shares, the remaining 56 per cent being publicly traded, most of them held by the French."

The board of Suez directors is composed of one Dutchman, 10 Englishmen and 20 Frenchmen, with important executive offices held by Frenchmen.

"Although the British government owns 167,000 shares, under the constitution of the company no single shareholder is allowed over 10 votes. Thus an ordinary shareholder with 250 shares possesses, for example, the same voting power as the British government."

PARIS VIEWS DECISION AS VIRTUAL ULTIMATUM. PARIS, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The French saw the British cabinet's report of League sanctions tonight as a virtual ultimatum to Premier Mussolini to come to peaceful terms with Ethiopia before September 4 or take the consequences.

They felt Premier Pierre Laval must make the most strenuous effort of his long diplomatic career in the 13 days before the council meeting if the peace of Europe is to be assured.

Paris is hopeful, it is said, seeing Britain's firm resolve to uphold the League, will make a slow and peaceful penetration of Ethiopia, instead of waging war with all of its possible consequences.

Some quarters expressed fear the threat of sanctions would further antagonize Mussolini, but Britain's resolve to exhaust all conciliatory means in the next 13 days was seen as giving Laval a fighting chance as mediator to pull the Italy-Ethiopia quarrel out of the fire.

With Britain's Geneva stand outlined, it remains for France to decide how far she is prepared to go with London. A cabinet meeting is keeping in close touch with the British foreign office.

ROME WARNS BRITAIN "SANCTIONS MEAN WAR". ROME, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The authoritative newspaper Giornale d'Italia met suggestions abroad that strong measures be employed to curb Italy's East African policy today with the assertion "sanctions mean war."

The newspaper cited proposals in the British press that the Suez canal be closed against Italy and a free port of arms to Ethiopia authorized as "hostile acts" which might embroil the two nations.

Such an action, Giornale said, would not only transfer the East African controversy to Europe but possibly would inflame the entire world.

"Accusing Italy of violating treaties, inciting Britain's government to the first to violate treaties which it has signed," the editorial continued, "What it is today necessary to state precisely is the most decisive and concrete point. Sanctions mean war."

"No one in Italy is thinking of touching the British empire, but everyone in Italy expects the British empire will not obstruct her path when she is following Britain's example and methods in attempts to assure herself territory useful in her work for security."

Declarations of the paper, which is frequently employed to interpret the government's attitude, provides further evidence of Italy's intention to pursue an aggressive policy at the meeting of the council of the League of Nations September 4.

Informed sources disclosed Italy intends to demand Ethiopia's ejection from the League on the ground she failed to fulfill the conditions under which she was admitted.

An excellent source said Italy would allege slavery still exists in Ethiopia, that its borders have not been clearly defined and the central government has not been able to extend its authority over all outlying parts of the empire. The League imposed these three conditions upon Ethiopia in 1923.

SELAISSE DISTURBED BY ETHIOPIA. ADDIS ABABA, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie, faced with severe difficulty in holding his war-torn throne, has threatened with death any Ethiopian who menaces or assaults an Italian, it was learned tonight.

The shooting of Baron Muzi Falconi, an Italian consul, which he admitted was accidental.

Baron Falconi was seriously injured but attaches of the Italian hospital here, where he was brought today, said they were hopeful of his recovery.

With his American advisor, Edward Everett Colson, at his side Emperor Haile Selassie tonight tensely awaited and then studied news of the action by the British cabinet but there was no immediate comment.

Foreign merchants here, fearing Italian aviators may drop bombs if war starts, are panicky and are moving goods outside the capital. Insurance against war jumped in rates again today.

The government here ordered an inquiry to determine the circumstances of the affair.

Belled on U. S. The emperor was greatly disturbed by news the American senate had adopted a resolution forbidding munitions shipments abroad in connection with the Suez canal.

Through an arrangement with the emperor, American physicians, under Dr. Robert Hackman, chief of the American hospital, inoculate the Ethiopian army against smallpox, typhoid and cholera. This was said to be the largest single job of inoculation ever attempted in Africa.

The Falconi shooting, which at first threatened to assume grave ramifications, simmered down.

The consul himself described his injury simply as an accident.

"I left the caravan on a hillcock and went down to the river to choose a spot for lunch," he said. "I was hit by a bullet in the holder it went off and wounded me."

was his co-regent. In 1917 Tafari deposed the emperor and assumed the autonomy of the empire.

The descendants of Menelik the Great were killed or escaped and Ras Tafari had the empire for himself. These descendants of the old emperor are the present ruler's greatest danger. They are his blood enemies and although they do not live in Ethiopia, but just across the border in French Somaliland, they have been plotting to overthrow him.

To prevent these vassals from joining forces against him, the emperor has hit upon a curious stratagem. He keeps them all at his own court and whenever he goes on a voyage they follow in his train. Seventeen of these princes accompanied the emperor on his trip through Europe. They were heavily guarded by his trusted servants, of course.

Are Kept Prisoners. Nobody suspected in London or in Rome or in Paris when Haile Selassie and his gorgeous suite appeared in public that it was in reality a keeper and his prisoners. The court of Addis Ababa is not precisely a model brotherhood, you may be sure.

Lidj Yassou, a grandson of Menelik, has been in Abyssinia on a secret mission. His presence was betrayed by a woman, and although the emperor's bloodhounds and fastest riders were set on his trail, he managed to escape again into Somaliland. Now he is reported to be dead. Some like to believe that.

Least the vassal princes, who are suspected of entertaining friendly sentiments toward the Menelik dynasty, use their own troops to combat the present emperor instead of joining him. Haile Selassie is sending modern-equipped troops of his own out to the provinces and ordering the private little armies to the capital. There they too are drilled in modern warfare, but they are kept far from their native haunts and not allowed to come in touch again with the lukewarm provincial governors.

He asked for a screw driver, both Sams and his wife told police, and they heard him fumbling with the telephone and put something in it. The brooch, meantime, had been left on Sams' dresser and he put it on his tie from here it was later transferred to Armstrong, according to Sams' statement. Armstrong, in his statement, told detectives Sams had given him the brooch for safekeeping and that he did not know it was stolen.

9-CENT COTTON LOANS ANNOUNCED BY AAA

tion up to the amount of his Bankhead allotment.

As Chester C. Davis, AAA administrator, and his assistants departed for their homes, apparently pleased with the final approval of the plan at a White House conference late in the afternoon, sharp repercussions came from Capitol Hill.

Senator George, democrat, Georgia, a leading proponent of a flat 12-cent loan, asserted flatly President Roosevelt and Secretary Wallace had "yielded" to the shippers and shipping interests.

"The announcement," said George, "will be disastrous to the entire cotton-growing south."

Adding details of the complicated loan plan would merely "confuse" the farmers, George said, "I will not ask another southern farmer to sign a contract with the government."

Senator Bankhead, democrat, Alabama, author of the Bankhead cotton control act, asserted he thought it was "a great misfortune the President did not announce a straight 12-cent pound loan."

"Of course, it is evident Secretary Wallace, Chester Davis and cotton shippers want a 'switch' in the modification," he said. "I think the plan will be very confusing and may cost the government a great deal of money."

Loans on More "Lift." Stating the plan was approved by President Roosevelt, the AAA said the commodity Credit Corporation will offer the loan of 9 cents a pound at the rate of a higher mortgage. The modification on 13-16 inch middling cotton or better.

Last year's 12-cent loan was made only on 7-8 inch middling cotton or better. The modification on 13-16 inch middling cotton or better.

No loans will be made on cotton of lower staple and grade than 13-16 inch middling.

The offers of both the loan and the outright grant will be made only to producers who signed contracts this year and who agree to sign contracts for 1936. A total of 1,000,000 contracts were signed this year.

Cotton production for 1935 was estimated on August 1 at 11,798,000 bales, compared to total production in 1934 of 9,638,559 bales. The total Bankhead allotment this year is 10,500,000 bales.

An official explained the "average price of 7-8 inch middling cotton" will comply a standard upon which the additional gifts to the farmers will be made.

If, for example, the average price during the stipulated period should be 11 cents, then every farmer would receive a grant of one cent a pound on all cotton produced under his Bankhead allotment.

It would be possible, the officials said, for some farmers to receive more than 12 cents for their cotton under this plan. Should the price be boosted to 13 or 14 cents for a few days, a farmer might sell his cotton for that amount. Then, if the price should fall and the average price for the four months be 11 cents, the farmer would receive the additional regardless.

Bigger Income Seen. Officials said they expected this new plan to provide growers an income of approximately $700,000,000 for their lint cotton for 1935, exclusive of rental and benefit payments under existing contracts. The income for lint cotton in 1934 was placed by the AAA at $613,000,000 compared to $634,000,000 in 1933 and $624,000,000 in 1932.

Senator Bankhead said extension of the loan to cotton as low as 13-16 staple would make more cotton eligible for the nine-cent-a-pound loan, however, as last year's 12-cent loan was only on 14-16-inch staple.

He said he did not know how the administration intended to guarantee a 12-cent price for 7-8 inch middling cotton to farmers this year.

Bankhead expressed hope that next year's cotton production will not exceed 8,000,000 bales as compared to the 11,798,000 estimated for this year.

"Everybody realizes that we have got to get cotton up to 13 cents a pound to relieve the surplus held by the government," he said.

50 Per Cent Reduction Sought. The program contemplated for 1936, Bankhead explained, would call for a 50 per cent acreage reduction over the base period, reducing acreage 22,000,000 as compared to the 26,000,000 in production this year.

"We are also considering a plan to give options on government cotton to farmers at a satisfactory price in order to bring about this great reduction in next year's crop," the Alabama senator said.

George's Statement. In a statement dictated to newspapermen shortly after the announcement, Senator George said:

"The announcement made by Chester Davis, reflecting the decision of the secretary of agriculture and the aim of the President, of a 9-cent loan coupled with the conditions stated, are most disappointing and break faith completely with the southern senators who have met every condition which he prescribed since April 1 on all matters relating to cotton."

"The secretary of agriculture and the President have yielded to the demands of the shippers and shipping interests and the announcement will be disastrous to the entire cotton-growing south."

EVANS HITS SNAG IN BUYING AUSTIN Judge To Rule Today on Motion To Annul Sale To Atlanta.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Federal Judge R. M. Gibson announced he will rule tomorrow on a motion by attorneys for the Indianapolis Industrial Investment Company to annul the sale of the American Austin Car Company's assets to Roy S. Evans, of Atlanta, Ga.

For two hours today lawyers representing Evans, the investment concern and the trustee for the bankrupt concern argued, with the judge finally remarking that if he did vacate the order he likely would order a public sale of the plant, located at Butler, Pa. Judge Gibson had approved the trustee's acceptance of Evans' offer to pay $5,000 for the plant subject to a $150,000 first mortgage. He immediately went to Butler to start the factory working.

Attorney William G. Beckman said his clients specialized in purchasing bankrupt companies and reorganizing them. He said they had no plans for operating the plant at this time but that it would pay $300,000 more than Evans offered.

It would be possible, the officials said, for some farmers to receive more than 12 cents for their cotton under this plan. Should the price be boosted to 13 or 14 cents for a few days, a farmer might sell his cotton for that amount. Then, if the price should fall and the average price for the four months be 11 cents, the farmer would receive the additional regardless.

Bigger Income Seen. Officials said they expected this new plan to provide growers an income of approximately $700,000,000 for their lint cotton for 1935, exclusive of rental and benefit payments under existing contracts. The income for lint cotton in 1934 was placed by the AAA at $613,000,000 compared to $634,000,000 in 1933 and $624,000,000 in 1932.

Senator Bankhead said extension of the loan to cotton as low as 13-16 staple would make more cotton eligible for the nine-cent-a-pound loan, however, as last year's 12-cent loan was only on 14-16-inch staple.

He said he did not know how the administration intended to guarantee a 12-cent price for 7-8 inch middling cotton to farmers this year.

Bankhead expressed hope that next year's cotton production will not exceed 8,000,000 bales as compared to the 11,798,000 estimated for this year.

"Everybody realizes that we have got to get cotton up to 13 cents a pound to relieve the surplus held by the government," he said.

ing to pass a resolution assuring employees of the municipality that their salaries will not be cut to provide amortization funds.

Atlanta probably will never again have such an opportunity to get school and sewer improvements by putting up so small a proportion of the costs. The federal government has been extremely liberal with Atlanta and we can not be foolish enough to refuse to take full and complete advantage of the offer to pay 80 per cent of the most of these undertakings."

Registration by Wards. Tatum yesterday listed present ward registration as follows:

First ward, 47; second, 450; third, 975; fourth, 483; fifth, 494; sixth, 280; seventh, 1,330; eighth, 1,337; ninth, 1,164; tenth, 678; twelfth, 323; thirteenth, 1,178. To this must be added 300 negroes who are registered, thus bringing the total to 10,028.

The registration list to date, incidentally, is exactly equal to the number of able bodied unemployed men who were registered last night.

Miss Shepperson asserted there are 10,028 such men on relief and the federal government's problem is finding employment for them. She asserted the approval of the bond issue would solve the problem for several months to come.

J. H. Merritt, leading seventh ward grocer, was named yesterday by Mayor B. H. Shepperson as a member of the bond commission. Burgess has moved his residence from the seventh ward and is not qualified to serve, he notified the mayor.

The commission is to direct the expenditure of city money after sanction of the issue by the voters.

cepted a job under the New Deal. He sold his birthright for a mess of pottage."

Commissioner of Agriculture Tom Linder could not be reached for a statement and cotton brokers here were reluctant to talk on the effect of the new program.

Reduces Loan Value. Frank Inman, a leading cotton broker, declared the government's action reduced the loan value on Georgia's 947,000 bale allotment from $56,000,000 to $42,000,000 but pointed out if the cotton is sold outright the government will be required under the plan to make up the loss to the farmer.

It was estimated here the program, if carried out, will cost the federal government considerably more than $100,000,000.

A well-known broker, who declined to permit use of his name, said he felt the most important part of the program was that which called for signing up in 1936.

"I understand the government plans to reduce the acreage in 1936 from 27,000,000 acres to 22,000,000, which is approximately 20 per cent less than this year," he pointed out. "If such is the case the farmers will have to sign up to get this year's 12-cent price. Then next year, the farmers already having been signed, the government can do what it wants to concerning acreage."

2 COUNTY OFFICIALS APPEAR BEFORE JURY

Frank Fling and Reese Perry Testify as 'Waste' Probe Continues.

Frank Fling, clerk of the county commission, and Reese Perry, of the tax assessor's office, were called before the special committee of the July-August grand jury yesterday as the probe of county affairs was resumed.

More witnesses are expected to be summoned before the jury as a whole this morning when it meets in regular session.

The commission clerk was understood to have furnished the jury committee records of the clerk's office, while Perry was reported to have been questioned concerning his tax assessments. Appearances of the two in the grand jury room were brief.

The special committee is now engaged in assembling the mass of information gathered by the committee and the jury into a report which will form the basis of the final presentation of the current jury, which goes out of office next week, it was understood.

It was indicated yesterday that the July-August grand jury will furnish information to the September-October jury, which is required by law to investigate county affairs.

The investigation now being conducted resulted from a report by Commissioner George F. Longino, leader of the minority faction of the county commission, that the majority faction, led by Commissioner Edwin F. Johnson, is wrecking the county's finances by waste and extravagance.

In special presentations the grand jury has already recommended re-employment and discharging of nearly 50 employees hired this year by the majority faction.

The probe will be resumed today at 10 o'clock, with the final presentation being returned next Friday at the last meeting of the jury for the July-August term.

George W. McCarty is foreman of the current body and R. L. Barge is secretary.

AT ATLANTA'S THEATERS

'Atlantic Adventure' New Rialto Feature

Another excellent Columbia production makes its bow to Atlanta audiences at the Rialto theater today when "Atlantic Adventure," a melodrama that combines plenty of comedy and romance with its punch-packed story of murder, gangsters and jewel thieves, opens a week's engagement.

Nancy Carroll, Lloyd Nolan and Harry Langdon have the leading roles, combining charming romance with heroic courage and side-splitting comedy. Albert Rogell, who has been responsible for many successes of the past few years, was the director.

Most of the action takes place on board an Atlantic liner, where an escaping murderer, a gang of jewel thieves and a pursuing newspaperman provide the human ingredients for a plot that holds the suspense and interest throughout. The climax is particularly clever, hinting at, yet avoiding, the banality of the usual "they lived happily ever after" ending.

Manager W. T. Murray has secured a group of excellent short subjects to complete a program that should prove, for the next week, ideal summer entertainment for patrons of the popular downtown Rialto.

'Dante's Inferno' Now On Paramount Screen

"Dante's Inferno," one of the most startling dramas ever produced by the motion picture industry, comes to the Paramount theater today with scenes of unmatched spectacle and soul-stirring sights that leave one breathless in their mighty sweep. The thrilling adventure of Dante in his journey through the inferno, as recorded in that great literary classic, "The Divine Comedy," is illustrated on the first time on the talking screen as an expression of a modern story theme.

The screen play is the drama of a modern transgressor which utilizes the symbolism of hell, as expounded in the Dante classic, to illustrate its theme. It provides for an amazingly graphic pictorial reproduction of that great spectacle in a sequence in which a kindly character and devotee of Dante's work, Henry B. Walthall, reads the classic to the principal character, Spencer Tracy, in an effort to make him see the error of his ways and visualize for him, drawing his images from the engraved illustrations in the book, the story of Dante's grim experience and the spirit of his philosophy.

The modern angle of the film, which has Claire Trevor in the leading feminine role, is closely linked with the spirit and atmosphere of its spectacular parallel, the story of Dante.

'Dog of Flanders' Film At Capitol on Sunday

Of outstanding interest to the people of Atlanta is the coming to the Capitol, for one week starting Sunday, of the special motion picture, "A Dog of Flanders," filmed from the novel by "Ouida," which has for the past 80 years held world-wide reader-interest.

The stars of the production are Frankie Thomas, remembered for his marvelous role in "Wednesday's Child"; O. P. Heggie, famous character actor, and Helen Parrish, a Columbus, Ga., girl. Many Atlanta people are acquainted with Miss Parrish and will welcome the opportunity to see her in the role of Maria. "Lightning," famous movie dog, also has an important part.

Tonight at 9 o'clock the Capitol will offer its usual Friday night amateur contest, with the following scheduled to appear: Louise Wardlaw, Betty Little, Tom and Anne Stevens, Dorothy Watkins, Evelyn Murphy and one other yet to be selected.

'China Seas' Held Over For Second Week Run

Public approbation of "China Seas," co-starring Clark Gable, Jean Harlow and Wallace Beery, has encouraged Loew's Grand theater, where this film has been showing for the past week, to retain it for another week's presentation.

"China Seas" is an adventure story about very understandable people, involved in dramatic situations aboard a ship sailing from Hong Kong to Singapore. Clark Gable is seen as the captain of the ship, an Englishman who resigned his commission in the British navy six years before when he was hopelessly in love with a married woman (Rosalind Russell). In China he has become famous as a ship's captain, and ashore he has found solace with China Doll (Jean Harlow).

China Doll, unexpectedly appears aboard the ship as it is about to sail. There is another unexpected passenger, too—the woman because of whom Gable left England. She has crossed the world to find the man she loves, to tell him that her husband is dead and that she still loves him.

China Doll, seeing the situation, tries to help herself out, but a series of incidents serve to turn her disappointment into hatred. Therefore when another passenger (Wallace Beery) seeks to involve her in a conspiracy to rob the ship, she is a ready victim. Beery is the "inside man" for a shipload of Malay pirates, lurking beyond the horizon, ready to seize the ship and its treasure.

STRIKE AGAINST WPA BACKED BY N. Y. LABOR

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 22.—(AP)—The New York State Federation of Labor went on record today in favor of strikes against Works Progress Administration security wages. The federation quickly voted its stand in a closing session, otherwise marked by uproarious disputes.

The so-called security or non-union wages, the adopted policy of the WPA, are not union wages, the building trades were forced to strike against them. We endorse these strikes and pledge ourselves to lend aid and support to the building trades if they are forced into further strikes when non-union wage rates are substituted for the prevailing rate of pay in any community.

PERSONAL RICHES HOLD SPOT IN MISSISSIPPI

Primary Run-Off Campaign Nears Tuesday Vote in Bitterness.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Bitter political and personal exchanges continued today in the campaign leading up to the democratic runoff primary next Tuesday between the Mississippi gubernatorial candidates, Hugh L. White and Paul B. Johnson.

The candidates and their spokesmen discussed President Roosevelt, Huey Long, Louisiana's "dictatorship" and other things within and without the borders of the state of Mississippi in their conquest of votes with a new high record of balloting expected in Mississippi next Tuesday.

One issue debated in today's campaigning was the question of the wealth of the two candidates. Johnson declared that he would defeat White in a battle of ballots with the poor, which he said he represented, arrayed against the millionaires.

But at Bay Springs, White declared Johnson, whom he said claimed to be poor while alleging he was rich, "has more money in the banks than I have."

This argument simmered down to a discussion of whether or not Senator Long, of Louisiana, was taking a hand in Johnson's campaign as charged by White and denied by Johnson.

Long has said he would take no hand in this campaign, as neither candidate subscribed to his "share-or-wealth" program.

But White charged Long's emissaries were racing up and down the roads in campaign maneuvers in Johnson's behalf, while Johnson flatly denied he had or wanted any support from Long.

Caterers To Epicurian Palates Set 'Perfect' Dinner for Own Delight

Anchovy Canape Follows Martini Cocktail Paving the Way for Old French Soup—Piece de Resistance Is Boneless Swab Chicken, Stuffed With Truffles.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The connoisseurs of fine food and fine drinking—the nation's stewards and caterers—tonight set a "perfect" dinner for their own epicurean satisfaction.

The skill which goes into the planning and carrying out of society's major affairs, and even more, went into the ordering of the feast which brought to a close the 41st annual convention of the International Stewards' and Caterers' Association.

The dinner opened with a Martini cocktail, which, because it is neither sweet nor sour, is an excellent appetizer. An anchovy canape, another appetizer, paved the way for petite marmite, a famous old receipt French soup, concocted by the long cooking in an iron pot of chicken, beef and various vegetables.

There were celery, olives and nuts to munch as the next course—boneless swab chicken, stuffed with truffles, less squab chicken. This piece de resistance was prepared from milk-fed, hothouse-grown baby chicks, weighing about a pound apiece, completely boned, stuffed with truffles and cooked quickly, with much basting, in a very hot oven. They were accompanied by fresh peas and Egyptian artichokes.

A dish as tempting to the eye as it is to the palate next made its appearance. It was macedoine of fruit en gelée, which is a mold in aspic of shredded fruit of many kinds.

For dessert there was place suzoni with brandy sauce and petits fours, rich French cakes. Glace suzoni is made of layers of various ice creams molded in the shape of a melon.

A demi-tasse concluded the dinner in which, of course, appropriate wines were served with each course.

Gourmets in the true sense of the word, the diners took three leisurely hours for their meal. They arose from the banquet table feeling comfortable and—this they say is the proper way to end it—with a tiny desire to eat just a little bit more.

ARTIFICIAL RADIUM NEARS PERFECTION

Commercial Possibilities Are Foretold; Produced by 'Bombing' Salt.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Production on a commercial basis of radio-active substances—some of which for many practical purposes are equivalent to radium itself—is near, the American Chemical Society was advised today.

Professor E. O. Lawrence, of the University of California, said it appeared to be only a matter of a few months before laboratories will be turning out in short periods a greater output of radio-activity than now exists in all the radium yet produced.

The radiation life of most of these substances is short, ranging from an hour up to a couple of weeks; but for many medicinal purposes such as the treatment of cancer and for a number of industrial uses this, it is believed, will be adequate.

Just what "artificial radium" will cost as a marketed product has not been determined but it unquestionably will be inconceivable in comparison to that of radium.

Dr. Lawrence and his associates now are able to produce in a ten-hour working day the radio-active equivalent, in potency, of 50 milligrams of radium, which would cost several thousand dollars. It is done by the atomic bombardment of table salt by the use of high voltage electricity. Other elements can and have been made radio-active ranging up to copper.

CALIFORNIA VIGILANTES TAR 2 RED AGITATORS

Three Others Trowned, All Forced To Kiss American Flag, Take Oath.

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Aug. 22.—(P) Grim vigilantes vanished into anonymity tonight after tarring and feathering two men and thrashing three others in violent raids on asserted "communist agitators."

The night riders, numbering nearly 400, attacked the victims early today amid the crackle of gunfire and the bursting of gas bombs. They accused the frightened prisoners of "agitating" among fruit pickers in the Richfield and Orchard area.

The tar and feather victims, Jack Green and Solomon Nitzburg, were reported "absent from the county" tonight. Nor could whereabouts of the other three victims be ascertained. Vigilante spokesmen believed they had fled—"for good, after the lesson they got."

Sheriff Awaits Complaints.
Sheriff Harry Patteson said, "I don't plan any action unless there is a complaint made—and I don't anticipate any complaints."

In San Francisco, the Northern California Committee of the American Civil Liberties Union protested to State Attorney-General U. S. Webb, demanding an "immediate investigation." The attorney-general said he proposed to take no action unless officially informed of the incident.

The raiders shaved the heads of Green and Nitzburg and applied tar and feathers.

Returning to Santa Rosa, they forced the two to parade down the main streets to the accompaniment of shouts and blasts from automobile horns.

Campus Fashions Modeled by Agnes Scott Girls

Six of Agnes Scott's prettiest and most popular students are seen wearing Davison dresses and hats at the fashion show in the store's restaurant last Tuesday. From left to right they are Mary Hutchinson, Eloise Alexander, Elizabeth Blackshear, Dorothea Blackshear and Louise MacIntyre. Laura Whitner is standing in the rear. Clothes that are worn on eastern campuses will be featured at another show tomorrow.

LOWE IS TO ADDRESS SALZBURGERS' MEET

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 22.—E. A. Lowe, dean of the Armstrong Memorial Junior College, has accepted an invitation to make the principal address at the Labor Day gathering of the Salzburgers, to be held at Ebenezer.

The program committee which invited Mr. Lowe to make the address was composed of Rev. C. A. Linn, Dr. R. L. Gunn and L. D. Graham. Another feature on the program for that day will be a reading from Goethe's "Hermann and Dorothea," which is the true story of the exile of a Salzburger maiden. The reading will be given by Miss Mary Eyer.

A business meeting will be presided over by Judge Gordon Sausser, president. The other officers are L. D. Graham, of Savannah, vice president; Julian Shearouse, of Springfield, secretary; and Walter Usher, of Guyton, treasurer.

AGNES SCOTT GIRLS SHOW CAMPUS STYLE

Eleven of College's Prettiest Model for Show at Davison's.

Eleven of Agnes Scott's prettiest and most popular students started Tuesday in a showing of Davison dresses, hand-picked for wear at Agnes Scott. The spacious restaurant was packed and jammed from 12 to 2 o'clock to watch these specialists in what-to-wear and when to wear it parade in a succession of new fall campus styles.

Working on the old and well-proven precept that the way to have a thing done perfectly is to call in a group of experts—Davison's summoned for advice and demonstration Laura Whitner, Mary Garland, Lucille Dennison, Louise MacIntyre, Mary Collier, Dorothea Blackshear, Elizabeth Blackshear, Eloise Alexander, Betty Roache, Mary Hutchinson and Sarah Brosnau. They consulted and selected and emerged from the College Shop wearing the clothes that will be just right at Agnes Scott this fall for class wear, for afternoon, for Sunday best, for teas, for dancing, for dinner. Prospective Agnes Scott freshmen as well as upper class students took notes, both in the restaurant, and later in the College Shop, where the showing was continued.

Davison's series of fashion shows, each concentrating on the proper dress for colleges in various sections of the country, will be continued on Saturday, featuring clothes that will be worn on the campuses of eastern and Virginia colleges.

CRISP TAX COLLECTOR CITED IN OUSTER MOVE

Acting on recommendations of the Crisp county commission, Governor Talmadge yesterday cited C. O. Perry, Crisp county tax commissioner, to appear before him August 30 to show cause why he should not be removed from office for an alleged default of $154,000 in county and school taxes.

At the same time Comptroller General William B. Harrison cited Perry to appear before him September 3 to make a settlement with the state on funds due from taxes from 1929 to 1934.

The Governor's citation was issued after the county commission had issued two executions over the signature of S. Bundrick, chairman of the county board, and executions against Perry's bondsmen for $42,000 in taxes allegedly due the county prior to 1932 and $112,000 allegedly due on Perry's current term of office, which began on January 1, 1933.

The Governor's order also was issued after the county board had passed a resolution formally charging Perry with default.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 22.—(P)—After serving nine years as assistant state attorney-general, W. P. Barry Jr., of Jackson, today entered the race for a seat on the supreme court bench.

Boys, Ten and Eleven, Rout Negro Burglar

A 10-year-old youth last night routed a negro burglar from the boy's home and another youth, 11 years old, who lives next door, rushed into his home, procured a gun and shot at the fleeing thief.

Virgil King, 10, went into a darkened room in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. King, 860 Virgil street, and, going to turn on a light on a table by a window, he put his hand on the head of the negro who was climbing in the window.

The boy called for help and J. D. Evans, 11, of 862 Virgil street, hearing Virgil's shouts, spotted the negro at the window and rushed into his home for a pistol belonging to his parents. The boy fired at the negro, who had taken to his heels, but missed. The boys' parents were away from home at the time.

Eleanor Gray Will Make Her Debut In Atlanta and Nashville Society

By Sally Forth.

BLONELY beautiful Eleanor Gray will lend her charms and vivacity to the debutante cotillion this year, her decision to join the ranks having been made yesterday. Eleanor, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Inman Gray, is the namesake of her attractive mother. Lots of parties will revolve around Eleanor, with Mrs. Robert Cooney's party being planned among the first to compliment her niece.

Eleanor will spend a month in Nashville during her debutante year because she wants to meet her mother's girlhood friends and their children. She will be chaperoned upon this intriguing visit to Tennessee by Mrs. Cooney, whose girlhood days were also spent in Nashville.

Eleanor, who graduated from Washington Seminary last June, is a member of the Sigma Delta sorority. She is quite a tennis devotee and simply adores the out-of-doors. She is a representative of socially prominent Georgia and Tennessee families whose ancestors have contributed to the cultural advancement of both states. Adding Eleanor's name to the list of debutantes gives prestige to the galaxy of debbies making their social bows in 1935-36.

ATLANTA'S group of attractive August visitors will be augmented next week by the presence of Shirley Scott, of McKinney, Texas, and Jane Cauble, of Winston-Salem, N. C. They arrive on Monday to visit Charlotte Selman at her home in Druid Hills. They will come here from Camp Dixie, where they enrolled this summer. Both are athletically inclined, but they possess those characteristics that are eternally feminine. Shirley is an expert equestrienne. Her father owns one of the finest stables in the state of Texas. Two years ago Shirley rode at the head of the rodeo parade in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Jane excels in tennis and also plays an excellent game of golf. Last summer she won the tennis championship at Camp Dixie. Sally hears that Jane anticipates her visit here with much enthusiasm. Her arrival will be in reality a home-coming, for Jane lived here until two years ago, when she moved to Winston-Salem with her parents.

Charlotte has planned a breakfast for next Wednesday as a compliment to her visitors. The day following, Betty Taylor will give a swimming party at the Capital City Country Club. On Friday Mrs. R. L. Towles will honor them with a swimming party at the East Lake Country Club. Other parties will be planned in Shirley and Jane's honor after their arrival.

THE wonder of modern transportation was evidenced yesterday in the delivery of a letter to Clark Howell Jr. It was written by Clark Howell Jr. aboard the steamer Europa, and was airmailed on the steamer. The airplane was catapulted from the ship and the letter reached the New York airport on Wednesday. It required only seven hours for the plane carrying the message to reach Atlanta, and it was delivered here yesterday morning several hours before the Bremen docked at its New York pier. Mr. and Mrs. Howell Jr. and their son, Clark Howell III, will arrive in Atlanta on Sunday afternoon.

FRIENDS, personal and inherited, of charming titian-haired Doris Becker will be delighted to know that she arrived here yesterday to visit Constance Knowles at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Knowles, on Peachtree road. Doris has been in camp this summer at Laurel Falls in north Georgia, and her stop here will be one of a movable pause in her trip north. She will continue by boat later from Savannah, with an exciting visit to Annapolis, before reaching Washington.

Her uncle, Bruce Higginbotham, who resides at the Biltmore, motorized to the camp yesterday for his lovely niece. Doris and Constance are lifelong friends and will find many interesting things to discuss. The latter is numbered among the younger set here and will enlighten Doris as to the latest news about "the crowd."

The latter, you know, now makes her home in the national capital, where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Becker, moved last year and reside in an apartment on Columbia road. They formerly lived here and were prominent members of society, their attractive home. The Band-box, on Andrews drive, being a popular rendezvous for the younger married set.

Doris attends the fashionable Holden Arms school and has already carved for herself an undisputed place among the school-girl set in the capital. As mentioned above, she possesses silken titian hair and has inherited the vivacious charm and personality of her lovely blond mother and her handsome brunet father.

How to Have a Soft, Smooth, Exquisite Skin

For red, coarse, oily or shiny skin, and rough, spotted, wrinkled complexion, never use ordinary face powder because it clogs up the pores and creates an unhealthy condition. In place of powder, use the new cream and lotion, use Cu-Crema, which will produce a beautifully clear, soft, smooth and healthy complexion. Cu-Crema contains absolutely no mercury, yet is guaranteed to remove "shine" and make your skin soft, smooth and lovely in an unbelievably short time. Soothing and refreshing, its presence cannot be detected, except for its charming, delicate odor. Cu-Crema is considered by many the most refined and exquisite of all complexion preparations, because it gives the skin an appearance of natural loveliness without that "powdered" look.

Cu-Crema does not rub or dust off on clothing and is therefore excellent for use on the neck, arms and hands. It positively will not grow hair. A large jar, white, flesh or brunette, for only 50c at all drug and department stores. Cu-Crema Company, Dept. 3-C, Lynchburg, Va. (adv.)

FEATHER IN HER HAT

By Julie Anne Moore

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Ann Rogers and Rita Manley, back in Elmville from college, get civil service jobs in Washington. Rita knows Bill Hudson, correspondent there for a New York paper. He is a friend of Mollie Winslow, special writer on the Globe, with whom the girls are to stay temporarily. Mollie gets a mysterious phone message that Fuhman Wells, Senator Rumbucker's secretary, is lying murdered in the Lincoln Memorial's reflecting pool, but he is at her office door when she hangs up. The same voice phone that Rumbucker's son, Deane, is a murder victim in the house of representatives, and later that the senator has jumped a blind flight from Los Angeles. The night she arrives Ann meets Lee Monday, Bill's friend, a wealthy young aviator, when he ends a blind flight from Los Angeles. He is about to kiss her, then abruptly says good night. Lee comes, expecting to see Bill. Both are so tired they fall asleep sitting on a couch. When Lee wakes he does not recognize Ann. He sends orchids. Carl Hammer, Department of Justice agent, is attracted by Rita and Rumbucker's daughter, Selma. At Selma's request the senator discharges Wells. At a dinner given by Selma phone call states that Wells is dead in the reflecting pool. The guests find Wells himself there but following an explanation of how he is dead in the pool, with wire twisted about his neck. Police decide Wells committed suicide. Lee takes Ann and Selma to a name surprise party by flying to Elmville.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT XV.

His watch had not stopped. It was seven o'clock which meant that exactly eight hours ago he was hearing that first ominous cough of the motor. At intervals since Ann had regained consciousness and learned they had due to an empty gasoline tank, made a forced landing in what appeared to be a mountain wilderness, she had teased Lee to tell her what happened during the interval when she was "catching up on lost sleep." But he had steadfastly refused to talk about it and now as she began the oft repeated question, he shook his head, firmly.

"Some day, maybe. Not now, Ann. I'd rather talk about something pleasant." But after a little he said, "I'll tell you what I was afraid of, though that we had been carried out on top . . . The minute we came out on sea and the old boat responded to the controls, I put her nose right in the wind and held her there. That's why I can't figure out where we are. We may have gone 100 miles inland, and we may have gone 200 . . . By the way, are you any good at shining up a tree?"

Ann laughed. "I'm out of practice, but I'll probably manage to get up a nice skinny one."

She chose a maple far up the mountain side and ultimately reached a point from where she could see out over miles of forest. Forest that spread out over a broad valley and, in the distance, swept up on all sides to completely cover a winding mountain wall. Lee shook his head grimly when she told him what she had seen. "What a mess!" he said. "I'm darned sorry, Ann."

She forced a smile. "But there's nothing to be sorry for. It was all my fault. If I'd let you land when you wanted to—"

She saw the shadow that suddenly passed over his face and knew the pain in his knee was growing worse. "I'll take a little hike after awhile and see if I can dig up a hummer being. There must be a farmhouse around here somewhere."

"That's the devil of it," he said, his head shaking slowly. "If you went off alone, you'd probably get lost. And since I can't navigate on this leg, there's nothing to do but wait and hope they'll come looking for us. Ann—" he paused as if undecided whether to continue, then abruptly leaned toward her—"we may be in this place for days, Ann . . ."

AUNT HET

Smilingly she had handed him the canteen before throwing herself on the ground. She lay now with her arms thrown out, eyes closed, breathing audibly through her bare open mouth, marvelling that she had been able to do this thing . . . Time and again she had stopped to lean heavily against a tree, feeling that she had used up the last ounce of her strength. Perhaps the hope of finding a stream down there, or the fear that she would not, had so completely absorbed her consciousness that there had been no opportunity to think of herself as she went down the mountain. Then she had caught the tiny tinkling sound of running water . . . at first a small stream twisting down a narrow, rocky straits gully; then, stumbling in her haste, she had come unexpectedly to an open space where the grass was summer green beneath her feet, and overhead the wide canopy of sky was blue and warm and friendly. And at the moment, even before she flung herself down for her first drink of the cold water, she decided that by some means she must bring Lee Monday here.

Carefully, Lee screwed the plug in to place and laid the canteen on the ground. "Personally," he said, grinning. "I feel a thousand per cent better. How about you, Ann?" She grunted agreement, but her eyes remained closed. The rise and fall of her breasts beneath the leather coat was more regular now. "I found a place—perfectly beautiful. And in the open . . . We've got to get down there somehow . . ."

Lee's head shook, hopelessly. "No chance, I'm afraid." He put a hand caressingly on his injured knee. "The hinge of this darn leg is broken, or something. Maybe—say—did you hear that . . .?"

Ann was on her feet, staring up through the little jagged holes in the trees, straining her ears to catch that distant, hollow sound again. She heard nothing but her own heavy breathing, but Lee cried, "It's a plane—it's a plane!" He's coming this way. How—

Ann's hands were on his shoulders forcing him back. "They can't find us here. Lee . . . We're hidden . . . We might as well be in a tunnel as under these trees . . ."

The muffled exhaust of the plane was nearer now. Lee fumbled in his pockets. "Where are those matches, Ann? They ought to be dry by now. Hurry!"

Ann ran back with the matches and under Lee's directions raked up a little pile of leaves and twigs and pulled off a yard or more of torn linen from the fuselage.

The moan of the motor was near now and Lee's trained ears told him the plane was flying an irregular course, swinging from left to right and back again.

Aunt Het

A hand cupped to protect the flame, Ann drew a match across a loose stone. There was no flicker of flame, only a soft gray line across the rock. Lee almost jumped at the rock. The match box! Strike it on the box, Ann! It's almost here now. He'll be flying over in a second. Strike it, strike it!"

The full, even purr of the motor was a roar in her ears as Ann pulled the match along the sandpaper side of the box. The match head was like a point of fire, the foot-long flame. Again, in desperation she threw the box into Lee's hand. He tried match after match.

His shoulders sagging, the flame of hope gone out of his eyes, Lee tossed the match box into the air. "Use the hummer! A continuous, echoing blast."

"Well—" said Lee, "here we are." Ann said, gravely, "We've got to get down. It's open there. They'll be able to see us." And at least we'll have water . . ."

How they managed that long and sometimes treacherous descent, neither Ann nor Lee would ever be able to explain. It had seemed impossible before they started. Yet they did it. The canteen was empty, the foot-long flame of the two leather seat cushions, and the canteen.

When Lee was settled on the edge of the clearing with his back to a tree of the clearing, she came to a canteen, and his injured leg resting on a cushion. Ann dropped the blanket she had won as a pack and pulled the canteen strap over her head.

"If you'll just be patient now," she said, whimsically, "I'll hurry supper all I can."

Lee watched her dark little figure moving across the clearing until she came to the plot of grass at the water's edge. They had had nothing to eat since dinner at Elmville last night and Ann had been so busy explaining the foot-long flame of the canteen, but she could joke about it. "How many men, he wondered, could have stood up under the strain of the past 24 hours so well? And yesterday he had thought of her as only a little animated girl who would never grow up and whose sole attractions were a delightful innocence and an infectious zest for life."

She came back and put the canteen in his hands. The canvas cover was cool and damp. "You'll find the steak a little rare, smiling, "but most men like it that way."

The DEBUNKER

WEATHER CAN'T BE FORECAST BY FEELINGS PEOPLE HAVE IN THEIR JOINTS AND MUSCLES

Many people have claimed that they could predict weather without fail merely by the feeling in their joints and muscles. Recently, a number of these "dead sure" weather prophets were invited to medical clinics for experimentation. It was found that changes in barometric pressure, temperature and humidity of the air produced definite changes in the blood pressure of the people. They failed to find, however, any degree of accuracy in the weather-predicting of this group, who disagreed among themselves in many cases regarding their predictions.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

MONTANA'S STONE FOREST.

The state of Montana contains a Stone Forest. It is at the northwest corner of Yellowstone park, and has not had much fame until the past few years because it was hard for tourists to reach. Recently, however, a highway was opened, and motorists can reach it without much trouble.

The first white man to tell about the petrified trees of the Yellowstone region was a wandering fellow by the name of James Bridger. He told many strange stories of his western travels, and some of them might be called "tall tales." For example, he reported that he had seen "petrified birds-a-sitting on petrified trees-a-singing petrified songs."

Neither the songs nor the birds were petrified, but the trees were; and they are a wonder to those who gaze upon them now. There are fossil trees in other parts of the Yellowstone region; but those in the Stone Forest are worthy of special notice because, in many cases, the trunks are standing upright—not lying on the ground.

The Stone Forest is partly inside Yellowstone park, but much of it is north of the present boundary line.

It is about 15 miles west of Gardiner, Mont.

Among the trees which left fossil remains in Yellowstone region are chestnuts, beeches, cypresses, magnolias, sycamores, oaks, dogwoods, breadfruits and figs. Some of these are not to be found today except in warm southern climates, so we may ask, "How could they have their remains in a place so far to the north?"

The answer is that the climate must have been warmer when the trees were growing.

In one cliff in the Stone Forest, a petrified tree stands about 35 feet high, and seems to be holding up a ledge of rock above it. Another sight is the stone stump of a redwood tree, with a diameter of 10 feet. After the redwood fell, another tree grew from the stump; and the new tree also turned to stone.

Perhaps most amazing of all is a cliff which nature has cut away in such a manner that the past history of the region is given in great detail. The remains of eight forests, one above the other, have been laid bare!

Time and again volcanoes broke loose in this region. Ashes rained down over the trees, and sometimes a layer of ash was 50 feet deep. The forests were killed, but they were saved by being turned into stone when water seeped down through the ashes and caused silica to take the place of wood. In later centuries, new trees grew on soil which was formed above the old forest.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Corrects Constipation.

An enthusiastic and voluntary letter: "We have daughter who has been troubled all her life with constipation. About three months ago, we discovered ALL-BRAN. From that day to now we have not given her any form of laxative. "We have become ALL-BRAN users, and now it is a part of our daily diet."—Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Pope, 562 Maple Ave., Elmira, N. Y.

"Constipation due to insufficient 'bulk' in meals. ALL-BRAN provides gentle 'bulk' to aid regular habits. It also furnishes vitamin B and iron. The 'bulk' in ALL-BRAN is often more effective than the 'bulk' in fruits and vegetables, as it does not break down within the body. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. If not corrected this way, see your doctor.

Isn't this food much pleasanter and safer than risking patent medicines? Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Friendly Counsel

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD. Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be taken up in this column. Correspondence invited. True names held in confidence. Write to Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

When I was quite young my parents died, and I was left with my aunt. Then she died and I had nowhere to go, so I married a good friend. I knew I didn't love him but it seemed the best thing I could do. The one I really care for lives in the same town with me and I have no peace day or night, thinking of how different he would be if I were married to a man I loved. I don't think my husband cares for me and a divorce would set us all free. I have had such a miserable life I don't want to make a mistake. Won't you advise me what to do?

DESPAIRING.

ANSWER: Dear child, Providence has dealt you some bitter blows in taking away your loved ones and leaving you to fend for yourself. Up to this time you haven't added to your misery a guilty conscience. You are not a miser on earth. Don't do it now.

Before you act rashly and ask for a divorce, try a little game known as "Making the Mind Behave." Instead of thinking about the man across the street, think about your husband who took you in when you were homeless, married you when you were poor and dependent, gave you the best he had when you needed it most. See if this will awaken in you a sense of gratitude toward him that will enable you to be a good wife to him. It is not likely that any man could be so enthusiastic about a wife whose thoughts are continually turning toward another man. Certainly no man can be friendly to a wife who is so full of hate and bitterness toward him. If you were foolish enough to throw your husband overboard there is no guarantee that number two would come across with the ring and license. Many a rascal man has loved to a married woman but shies off when she gets her freedom. You can't put much faith in the love-making of any man who is content to a divorcee's parlor and with you to deceive your husband. And more important, you can't look for happiness in any arrangement that involves your doing wrong. If the skin is in, leaving her to trick to someone who looks to you for happiness.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

I have been seeing a lot of a man lately, meeting him at parties and dances. He has got into the habit of stopping by my place of business for a few minutes each week. I have never dated him. He tells me his wife tricked him into a divorce that he doesn't love her and would like a divorce but she won't give it to him. He tells me also that he loved me the first time he laid eyes on me. I have a lot of boy friends but none that appeals to me as this man does. What about dating him?

CONSTANT READER.

ANSWER: A girl that is old enough and smart enough to make her own living should be too smart to be taken in by a stroller who drops in her place of business and in casual conversation criticizes his present wife and makes her a divorcee and then makes her back-hand love to an acquaintance across the counter. He has given ample proof of his rascality. All of what he says of his wife may be true but it is an even bet that she is better than he is or he wouldn't be discussing her with a casual stranger whom he has chance to meet at parties or dances. The mere fact that she refuses to give him a divorce if he has ever asked for it, which is doubtful, shows that she is right on her side. Otherwise he would be divorcing her without asking, by her leave.

For Miss McQueen.

Miss Betty Anne Roberts entertains at luncheon today at her home on Juniper street, complimenting her guest, Miss Florence McQueen, of Birmingham, Ala. The guests will be Misses McQueen, Pauline McGee, Mary Crowder, Betty Blasingame and Anne Wooten, of Jonesboro.

Left, Miss Helen Artley is pictured with her cousin, Miss Helen Sinkler, of Charleston, S. C. The latter, who is visiting her cousin, is the daughter of Major and Mrs. Thomas S. Sinkler. The young visitor's mother is the former Miss Helen Thorn, of this city, and a sister of Mrs. Allen Artley, who before her marriage was Miss Emogene Thorn. During her visit here Miss Sinkler has been honored at innumerable social gatherings. Upon her return to Charleston she will be accompanied by her cousin, Miss Artley, who will receive many social attentions given by younger society of that city. Photograph by Thurston Hatcher.

Miss L'Engle's Party.

Miss Bess L'Engle entertained yesterday at a luncheon at the Piedmont Driving Club, honoring a trio of belles, Miss Petrea Cabanis, of Pensacola, Fla., the guest of Miss Christine Thiesen; Miss Sarah McGregor, of Tampa, Fla., the guest of Miss Virginia Merri; and Miss Dorothy Jane Orr, of Chicago, who is visiting Miss Clara Haverly.

Last evening Miss Haverly and Miss Orr were numbered among those attending the weekly dinner-dance held on the roof garden of the Capital City Club.

Miss Orr was honored Wednesday at the luncheon when Miss Haverly was hostess at the Piedmont Driving Club, and 200 guests assembled to meet the attractive visitor.

Complete Facial and a Treatment for Blackheads

By MIGNON. Facials for dry skin, facials for oily skin, and what to do about blackheads seem to be the leading questions. First, there is no question but what the blackhead problem leads, so that is the treatment I am going to prescribe for you today.

In the first place, if you have had them long, and have enough money to afford it, I would advise you to get to a facialist. He will clean your face and have them removed in a sanitary fashion so that you won't have any scars or maybe infect yourself by being careless about taking them out. If you can't afford to do this, I would advise this treatment:

Take a rough wash cloth or small, rough towel, and dip it into hot water. Lay this—not too hot—over the areas affected. Do this a few times and then very carefully squeeze them out, provided you can do so without bruising the skin surrounding the offender. Don't bruise your flesh with your finger nails. A tiny piece of sanitary gauze is a good thing to use in this process.

After you have finished—and don't remove too many at a time—have a good facial. The powder will help to dry upon the surface of the water, but that doesn't matter. Leave it there or add a bit more water. It won't hurt you even if you put the powder on. Always keep a roll of cotton (I'll tell you what kind) on your dressing table. Dip a wad of cotton into the water and merely draw out the sight of you. Perhaps he is, but what is his smiting worth? Not an engagement ring, not a marriage license, not a happy future for you, but rather a heartache, a compromise and probably a disaster.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

With cotton wash your face with a liquid cleanser which I will tell you about. It will get dirt off you never so perfectly clean.

Next use a cream. If your skin is dry, use a heavy, oily cream, and if it is oily use a light one. I can tell you the best cream for your skin. Then wipe excess cream off with tissues. Next, if the skin is oily, use a lotion, very cold. Either keep the lotion in the icebox or pour a tablespoon of it over a small piece of ice. Flap a cotton pad wet with this cold lotion against all parts of the face. For a dry skin use a mild lotion. For an oily one and large pores you can use a stronger one. If you are foolish enough to think if you like, leaving more cream on the skin. Next use, and always do this, a good foundation cream, only a little bit of which is necessary, in my estimation, to hold make-up and keep it out of the pores. I can give you the name of good one for this purpose. After this, put on your cream rouge. The trick is to put the cream on lightly, after the foundation cream. Don't powder it into the pores and clog them. It is not necessary. Then powder the face, lightly again, and then put on lipstick.

The next step is to use a tiny wad of cotton and the cleansing liquid I mentioned first, to run over the eyebrows and lashes, to get all cream and powder out of them and leave them perfectly clean.

If you use an eyebrow pencil, as I do, don't bear down on it and make yourself look artificial. Use it gently, lightly, and merely draw out the lines already indicated by nature. I'll give you the name of an excellent eyebrow pencil I am using.

Some people like mascaras and some don't. If you want it, I can tell you an excellent one to use.

Now you are ready for the party, and I do hope you feel comfortable in your acquired beauty.

Culbertson on Contract

By ELY CULBERTSON, World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

Mathematical Odds.

Any primary school mathematician can figure out for himself that the chances of a distribution of four units between two individuals favor a 2-2 over 3-1 or 4-0. On this basis alone there is a rule that with nine trumps in the two hands, missing the queen, play for the drop. But purely mathematical odds govern a bridge player only when he has nothing better to guide him, and any experienced card player will rely on the mathematical formula only when he can find nothing to indicate a mutation of the law.

TWO PRINCIPAL FACTORS.

The two principal factors which guide a good player when he decides to play against purely abstract mathematical odds are counting and the opponent's hands and the law of symmetry. Today's hand is a simple one. Declarer's making his contract depended solely on avoiding the loss of a trump trick. A combination of counting and the law of symmetry indicated the odds of a 2-2 trump split were actually lower than a 3-1 trump split, and with this as a guide, South made his contract.

South, dealer. Neither side vulnerable.

The bidding: (Figure after bid refers to numbered explanatory paragraph.)

2NT	3♠	3♥	Pass
4(1)♠	3♥	Pass	Pass

1—With partner having given two free raises and indicating a decided preference for suit play, South chose four hearts as his game declaration, despite holding a stopper in diamonds as well as in spades.

The Play.

West opened the king of diamonds and shifted to the king of spades, which declarer won with the ace. Although he knew he could set up one trick in diamonds, he discarded either a club or spade in dummy could not prevent him from losing one trick in each of these suits. This, with the diamond he had already lost, meant he could not afford to lose a heart trick. Apparently without much thought declarer led a low heart to the ace and then returned the king of diamonds. The king of hearts captured East's last trump and the queen of diamonds was played through, forcing West to cover with the ace. North trumped. South returned to his own hand with the ace of clubs, cashed a jack of diamonds, on which he discarded a spade, and then led the 10 of clubs. With a trump left for North's fourth club, South lost but three tricks and chalked up the game. "Just how," inquired the casual kibitzer, "did you figure that out?" "Easy," South replied. "On the bidding West was practically marked with five diamonds and five spades. This left but three cards in hearts and clubs. With only four hearts outstanding as against six clubs, the odds favored his holding a singleton heart. Based on the law of symmetry, dummy's singleton diamond confirmed the count of two five-card suits in the West hand since it indicated the probability of a singleton somewhere else around the table."

HAND OF TOMORROW.

What contract should South finally reach in the hand above? Watch our story of tomorrow.

Mr. Culbertson will send to any reader who will enclose a self-addressed, stamped (5-cent) envelope with his request, a booklet containing the new rules, discussing changes in the rules and discussing the significance of the Contract. The booklet should be addressed to Ely Culbertson, in care of The Atlanta Constitution.

PELICANS BEAT NASHVILLE, 6-2, TO GAIN GAME

New Orleans Now Trailing Atlanta by Only One Point.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Continuing their fight to overhaul the league-leading Atlanta Crackers, the New Orleans Pelicans made a clean sweep of their series with Nashville by beating the Vols here today, 6 to 2. Andy Messenger kept 10 hits well scattered. Tiny Chaplin, trying for his 21st victory, was knocked out of the mound in the seventh inning when the Pels scored four runs on four hits. Eddie Rose hit a home run with one on during the rally.

The Pelicans are only one percentage point back of the league-leading Crackers as a result of the loss.

WOLF MEETS BYRONTON
 FLOYD BYRNTON, top-notch light heavyweight wrestler from Kentucky, who has not been defeated in this state in over a year, will meet Joe Wolf, Chicago grappler, at the Riverside arena tonight.

The Kentucky grappler is a smooth worker and never resorts to rough methods to win a match unless forced to by his opponent. He weighs 180 pounds and is the first red-haired wrestler to appear here in some time.

John Mauldin in the semi-final match. The latter has repeatedly challenged Mauldin for a match and this is the first time the latter has accepted the challenge.

The opening match promises to be fast when White Patterson, Atlanta, meets Bill Ward, the Marietta champion.

Rossville Advances In Wichita Meet
 WICHITA, Kan., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Teams from Oklahoma, Illinois and Alabama were missing today from the national semi-pro basketball tournament. Shawnee, Okla., provided one of the biggest upsets of the tournament when it eliminated the Enid, Okla., state champions, 5 to 4.

The Buffalo, N. Y., Blue Coals ousted the Chicago Merchants 7 to 5; the Denver Fuelers eliminated the St. Paul brothers of Waukegan, Ill., 5 to 4; Rossville, Ga., put the Gaston, Ala., team out of competition with a 14 victory.

Yuma, Ariz., defeated the Memphis Red Sox, a negro team, 4-3, in a replay game. Shelby, N. C., defeated the Omaha Foris 6 to 3.

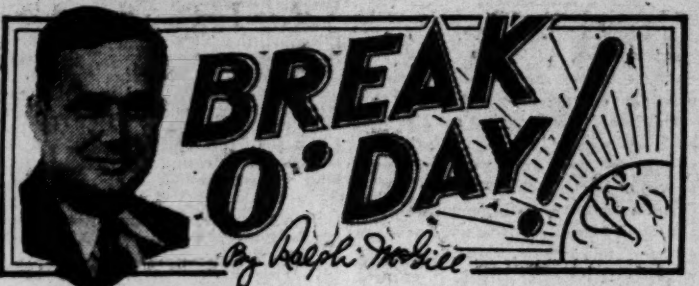

Betsill Cards Ace At West End Club
 C. E. Betsill carded an ace on the ninth hole at West End Wednesday afternoon. Betsill played with J. W. Simmons and they lost to E. T. Miles, the West End professional, and A. C. Spinks.

The ninth hole is 200 yards from the tee and Betsill's ball hit a few feet in front of the cup and rolled in for the ace.

Junior Skeeters Leave for Ohio
 Atlanta's Junior skeet team will leave the city at 7 o'clock tonight on the Ponce de Leon for Cleveland, Ohio, where they will participate in the national junior skeet shoot.

These youngsters making the trip are Al Fries, Jr., Luther McDonald, Jack Brock, Paul Keller and Harry Harkins.

Buddy Jones will accompany the team and will serve as coach for the youngsters.

Willie Green was in. Willie Green is the cheer leader for the Crackers over in the colored stands. "I just wanted to let you know," he said, "that I'll be there in the morning with a cow bell."

Willie Green, resplendent in a green uniform and brass buttons, was referring to the arrival of those Atlanta Crackers at the Terminal station this morning at 11 o'clock.

The present program calls for the citizenry, that is to say, the baseball citizenry, of the city to be on hand to help the mayor greet the team.

The police band will be there playing, among other things, "Hail, the Conquering Heroes Come." It is true the Crackers have not yet conquered. But they are in first place, which is a good spot in which to be if there is any conquering to be done.

Following the greeting at the station, there is likely to be a parade uptown. There should be. The dogs of our baseball citizens do not get enough exercise. They may bark with pain on even a short parade. But it is a good idea. They will be the stronger for stamping during the rallies at Ponce de Leon park, the old fountain of youth.

There will be quite a crowd out at the park tonight. It is ladies' night. Mr. Henry McCord Shaver had his force working late last night preparing the comestibles so dear to the baseball fans' stummicks. They regularly down 100 yards or so of hot dogs on these big evenings. They ran out of the dogs on the last big evening. Mr. Shaver has the kennels packed this week.

The attractive young lady who cooks them, lathers them with mustard and passes them out on buns, has been in training all week.

The baseball players swing two and three bats as they go to the plate and then toss away all but one. The young lady has been turning three and four hot dogs at one sweep of the spatula.

I think everything is in readiness for the return of the heroes and their admirers.

THE WOUNDED MR. MANN.
 Mr. Earl Mann returned to Atlanta yesterday. He was treated by the club physician for the tiny wounds which covered almost all his body.

The physician said Mr. Mann was suffering from a bad case of anthonyemomoonitis, which is not to be confused with Gloomber's disease, or spots on the vest. It was one of the worst cases of anthonyemomoonitis ever seen in Atlanta, but Mr. Mann will recover.

Anthonyemomoonitis is contracted from stopping too many arrows from the bow of the little naked god, Dan Cupid. The little rascal. I mean stopping darts which are meant for some other guys. Mr. Mann already has stopped the arrow from Dan Cupid which gave a young lady the name of Mrs. Earl Mann.

It was Mr. Mann who stepped in between Dan Cupid and Joe Hutcheson. Dan Cupid had fired so many arrows at Joe Hutcheson that he was about to get married on the day he joined the Crackers.

Now, it is a well-known fact that a gentleman on his honeymoon is a daffy, no-good-to-anyone sort of guy. And Earl Mann wanted Joe Hutcheson to devote his attention strictly to base hits and not be looking up in the stands waving to the bride.

So Mr. Mann stepped in there and went 10 lively rounds with Dan Cupid. Mr. Mann lost the first two rounds, but found his second wind and outpointed the little rascal. Mr. Hutcheson will marry when the season is done. And not before.

But in the encounter with Dan Cupid, Mr. Mann was wounded and is suffering from anthonyemomoonitis. He will live.

ALAS! A SEVEN-INNING PITCHER.
 Quite a lot of the fans thought that Lynn Nelson was a valuable piece of baseball property. Who hadn't a chance. Others said he was just a seven-inning pitcher who needed a relief man after that many innings.

What was the name of the fellow who pitched 14 innings yesterday to beat Atlanta—twice times 7 innings—why, bless my old shop-worn soul, 'twas Lynn Nelson. It seems that after the seventh Lynn Nelson relieved Lynn Nelson with great success.

THOSE PESKY PELS.
 It might be a good idea to remind those Pelicans that no club is supposed to continue a winning streak as long as they have their own. They do not seem to know such procedure is unorthodox.

The Pelicans, by all the laws of baseball, will either slump now or later. And the slump is due at this writing. No team can keep winning seven out of eight and eight out of nine without letting down. Maybe, however, the Pelicans do not know this. Someone should remind them.

The Crackers are determined to finish first. First place means the division of $1,000, which will mean about $60 each to the players. Now, $60 doesn't rate as important money but it isn't exactly movie money either. It will buy considerable groceries. That is one reason.

And another one is, these players really want to win for the Atlanta fans. I've seen a lot of professional ball players who didn't know the scores of their games and who didn't care what towns they played in. But this one is different. The tremendous crowds have won them completely.

Finishing first means some money to them but it also will please the Atlanta fans. So they want to finish first, even though the Shaughnessy system does make it meaningless.

THOSE ATTENDANCE RECORDS.
 An apology is due those Barons, who drew 299,150 people in 1927 with a second place club. This was the year of the New Orleans-Birmingham rivalry when a series in each city drew 100,000. They got 200,000 of the paid attendance, or 100,000 for each city, in a single series.

The attendance record for each city with the year it was established, follows:

1925—Atlanta—284,611.
 1927—Birmingham—299,150.
 1927—New Orleans—266,905.
 1920—Little Rock—165,127.
 1932—Chattanooga—179,127.
 1921—Memphis—253,338.
 1925—Nashville—178,633.
 1934—Knoxville—70,255.

In other words, those are the figures for the biggest year each city has had. Atlanta, of course, will set a new record this year for the league. The league record, however, is pretty safe. It is 1,351,570, set in 1925 when the Crackers won the pennant. It won't reach 1,000,000 this year. Not without the play-off series.

TIGERS BEATEN BY RED SOX, 10-9; YANKS LOSE, 12-9

Greenberg Hits 33d Homer; Chisox and Indians Lose.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(JP)—The Detroit Tigers maintained their seven-game American league lead as they lost a 10-9 decision to Boston's Red Sox today while the second-place New York Yankees were losing, 12-9, to St. Louis.

The Boston-Detroit game was a hitting carnival with each team making 14 blows. The Red Sox used four pitchers and the Tigers three.

The Tigers had a four-run lead going into the eighth but the Red Sox forged into the lead with a six-run rally. Williams started off with a homer. Dahlgren doubled and Reynolds added, scoring Dahlgren. With the bases filled, Cronin, Ferrell and Cooke singled to score the other runs.

Hank Greenberg led the Tiger attack with his thirty-third homer of the year. He batted in four runs.

The Browns hammered three Yankee pitchers for 14 hits. Four errors in the second and third, two by "Blondy" Ryan, enabled the Browns to score five runs. They added three in the fifth and four in the seventh to clinch the victory despite a last-ditch Yankee rally. Clift and Carey were the big guns in the Brown attack with three hits each.

The Chicago White Sox kept their one percentage point hold on third place by losing 7-4 to the Washington Senators while the fourth-place Cleveland Indians also were being defeated.

Every man in the Senator line-up made at least one hit. They took a two-run lead in the first and never were headed. Al Simmons led the White Sox attack with a homer and a single that brought in two runs.

Ed Link kept the Sox in hand until the seventh when he gave way to Phil Hensiek who snapped a two-run rally.

The Philadelphia Athletics whipped Cleveland 10-0. Bill Dietrich, A's right-hander, set the opposition down in the first and second innings with six hits while Thornton Lee, who went the route for the losers, yielded seven.

Richards drove in Higgins with the winning run in the second inning after the latter had taken a walk.

Big Jim, the Rescue Man

Now that the Crackers are about to enter the stretch drive of the Southern league race for the honor and glory of finishing in first place, Manager Eddie Moore expects to call upon the sturdy right arm of Big Jim Lindsey more often in the relief role. Jim is one of the best relief pitchers in the minors and has saved a number of games for the Crackers already. His record is 10 victories and 6 defeats to date, but he has finished several games in which other pitchers on the staff are credited with the win. Jim came to the Crackers in July of last year and won 10, losing 3 before the season was over. The Crackers return home today. Staff photo.

WOMEN'S GOLF IN FINALS TODAY

Mrs. Guy Butler and Miss Frances Schwab won their way to the finals of the Piedmont Park Women's Golf Association tournament Thursday morning in two of the closest matches ever witnessed on that course in a women's tournament.

Mrs. Butler beat Mrs. Sam Ramsey 2 up in what looked at first like a push-over for the city champion. But as the match progressed Mrs. Ramsey grew steeper and she gave Mrs. Butler a run for her money.

Mrs. Butler was 4 up with 5 to go and yet it took 18 holes to decide the match.

Miss Schwab and Mrs. Ben Barrow played an even closer match. It went 3 up, all square, 2 up, all square again, 1 down, square once more, and in such manner throughout the match. They were all square coming to 18.

Mrs. Barrow was on in 4. Miss Schwab in 3. When Mrs. Barrow missed her putt for the half, Miss Schwab dropped a beautiful 4-footer to win, 1 up. Both were extremely tired at the end of the match.

In the semi-finals of the consolation flight Mrs. J. C. Wright and Mrs. M. M. Sheffield advanced to the finals. Mrs. Wright defeated Mrs. Mark Sheffield 2-1 while Mrs. Sheffield won from Mrs. E. A. Brown, 2-1.

Benton Released By Boston Braves
 BOSTON, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The Boston Braves announced today that Larry Benton, veteran right-hand pitcher, had been unconditionally released and had been signed as a scout. The Braves' management said Benton would begin a scouting tour of the southern states, including the Southern league.

Kelley To Pitch Game Here Tonight
 Harry Kelley, ace of the Cracker pitching staff, has been selected to hurl tonight's game against the Birmingham Barons at Ponce de Leon park. The game will start at 8:30 o'clock. It will be ladies' night.

The Crackers will return home this morning at 11 o'clock and will receive one of the greatest welcomes ever accorded a home team. The Birmingham Barons will head the official welcoming party and the police band will be on hand to lead the parade which is planned through the downtown district.

All loyal baseball fans are urged to be on hand to make this one of the biggest welcomes of its kind ever staged in the Gate City.

Five 'H-Men' Planning Plenty of Headaches

Crackers Now Command Lots of Respect From Pitchers; Memphis in Trouble.

By Jimmy Jones.
 The five H-men in the Cracker lineup—and you have one guess as to what the H represents—are preparing to cause an epidemic of headaches among the league's pitchers between now and the end of the Shaughnessy play-off, which will take place some time before Thanksgiving.

Already it is reported that rival pitchers around the league are stocking up on various kinds of headache powders before facing the H-brigade.

Alex Hooks, the lanky first baseman, although still handicapped by a "charley horse" and a bad hand, began belting the ball at a vicious clip on the road.

Johnny Hill, the 23-year-old third baseman from the sandlots of Doughertyville, is hitting as well, or better, than he started out hitting back in April.

"Sheriff" Harris returned to the wars with a timely home run and double at Memphis Wednesday.

Peck Hamel is the same dangerous leader-off and base runner that he has always been and usually delivers the winning hit when most of the others have failed to do so.

MORE ARTILLERY.
 And now that Joe Hutcheson, the long-hair, has been added to the Crackers' arsenal, there is more pep-up dynamite in the Atlanta lineup than opposing pitchers have encountered all season.

It is no wonder that we left Manager Eddie Moore looking the picture of contentment and placidity when the writer and President Earl Mann made him farewell in that city Wednesday night.

Eddie has managed to keep the team on or around the top all season with more pitching than punch. And now that he has both in liberal quantities, those New Orleans Pelicans do not appear so formidable.

NELSON VICTOR OVER THOMAS IN LONG BATTLE

Former Cracker in Great Form as He Allows But 5 Hits.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 22.—The Crackers' traded Lynn Nelson to the Chicks a few days ago and today was the day they wished they hadn't.

For the chunky right-handed pitcher turned in a magnificent performance today to outlast Bud Thomas in a 14-inning duel, beating his old teammates, 3 to 2, and knocking them down to a virtual tie with the Pels for first place.

It was the only victory in three for the Chicks but it was well won. Babe Benning, whose pitch-baiting has been of sensational nature the last few days, broke up the duel in the fourth-inning with a ringing two-base hit to left field. Just last Sunday Benning hit a home run to beat Knoxville in 17 innings and on the day before that beat the Smokies with a double in the ninth.

HUTCHESON HOMERS.
 For a while it seemed as though a Chick castoff was going to win in this battle of castoffs, for Joe Hutcheson hit a home run with Johnny Hill on first in the fourth inning that looked like the winning margin until the ninth. Then in the ninth this same Johnny Hill made a foolish play that enabled the Chicks to knock the count and from that point on it was a knockdown and drag out battle.

In fact Willie Duke was dragged out of the mound in the ninth by Empire Eddie Ainsmith when Duke claimed he hit a home run over the right-field fence and Ainsmith said it was just another foul. It was clear, at that, not more than a foot outside if out at all, and Willie, after striking out kicked so

By G. A. PHILLIPS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Corporate bonds displayed moderate climbing tendencies in today's listed market, but another decline in United States government securities was sufficiently unsettling to restrict most advances to small fractions.

The majority of federal issues finished with losses ranging from 1/32nd to 1/4th of a point. The turnover in this department of around $4,000,000 was almost twice Wednesday's aggregate.

Dealers were disposed to attribute the renewed selling of government bonds partly to the thought that the treasury might again offer long-term issues at 2 7/8 per cent at auction. Also word that the $2,000,000,000 financial bonus bill, considered in the cabinet as inflationary, would be the first matter of business before the next session of congress, was said to have had a disquieting effect.

The Associated Press averages of the rails, industrials and utilities each edged up 1/4 of a point. Transfers totaled $12,300,000, a net value, against $10,588,000 yesterday.

Among the carriers that were slightly higher were Atlantic Coast Line 1 1/2 at 78 3/4, Baltimore & Ohio 6 1/2 at 81, Erie General 4 1/2 at 78 1/2, Great Northern 4 1/2 at 85, M-K-T 5 1/2 at 41 3/8, New York Ontario & Western 4 1/2 at 82 1/2, and Southern Railway consolidated 5 1/2 at 80 5/8.

Many of the utilities were unchanged, along with low-yield bonds in other categories. Among power company loans that managed to work a little higher were Columbia Gas 5 1/2 at 105, Laclede 5 1/2 at 79 1/2, and Tennessee Electric 5 1/2 at 100.

The European war situation was being watched closely in the commission houses, but about the only definite repercussion noted during the day was a sharp drop in Italian obligations, Italian government 7 1/2 at 93 1/2, and Italian 7 1/2 at 93 1/2.

Prices changes were generally inconsequential.
